$13.50 for 'Con' Home:

Kids Prove Charity No Adult Monopoly

Three 10½-year-old girls decided to wind up their vacation by putting on a carnival for the amusement of their friends and for the benefit of a worthy cause last week. As a result they were able to present to the Stanford Convalescent Home their profits of $13.50 and a gift of donated toys and records.

More than 30 friends and neighbors attended the P.B.H. Carnival last Saturday, Sept. 6 in the garden of the Richard H. Barbour home at 1815 Edgewood lane, Menlo Park. The event was planned and put on by the Barbour's daughter, Mary; Carolyn Polese, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Polese, 1630 Stanford avenue, and Janice Henderson, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Arvin T. Henderson of 455 Claremont way.

Among the attractions at gaily decorated booths around the lawn were, homemade lemonade and popcorn, ring and marble toss for prizes, penny toss for puppies, a wishing well, and weight guessing of "Sugar", Mary's huge stuffed bear.

A special feature was the "make-up booth" staffed by "artistes" Susan Henderson, sister of Janice, and Fleur Tibbits, offering facials and manicures to young ladies and freckles and moustaches to young men at a nominal fee.

The afternoon was climaxed by a play, "The Magic Cat," presented by the three young hostesses as a "thank you" to their friends who made their first benefit performance such a success.

The Fireman's:

SIREN GONE

The Menlo Park Fire District has gained another room of locker-space, made some neighboring firemen happy, and profited in the process.

They've sold their old siren.

The siren, replaced several years ago by the horn now used in the District, was recently sold to the Montara Fire District, which needed one badly.

The siren, a standing joke around the MP station-house because of its huge size that took up so much of the men's locker space, was sold for $125.

Aid for Less Fortunate . . .

. . . in the form of the money shown, some $13.50, was gathered for the Stanford Convalescent Home at a children's carnival sponsored Saturday by three 10½-year-old Menlo Park girls. The girls, left to right, are Carolyn Polese, Mary Barbour, at whose home the affair was held, and Janis Henderson. More than 30 of the girls' playmates turned out for the affair. The girls are showing their loot to "Sugar," Mary's stuffed bear, who was a great augmentation to the menagerie.

Enrollment Tops Estimates As Area High Schools Open

Atherton Nabs Vandals

Atherton police last weekend booked a Menlo Park man and two juveniles for acts of violence in which three mail boxes, one street marking sign and four speed limit signs were knocked down, in two separate vandal raids.

The juveniles were arrested early Saturday after John Lindforth, 89 Greenoaks drive, reported he heard prowlers on his property. Police arrived and found his mailbox had been blown up by a firecracker, but caught sight of the fleeing culprits' car and arrested two youths, aged 16 and 18.

At 3:38 a.m. Monday morning, Atherton police arrested Peter A. Sluis, 20, of 1100 Arbor road. Sluis, who could give no reason for doing it, admitted that he had used his car to knock down mail boxes at 202 and 246 Elena avenue, four "30-mile-per-hour" signs in the area of Elena avenue and Park lane, and a street marker in front of 220 Park lane.

The juveniles, Atherton police reported, had apparently been drinking. When booked, they were also charged with violation of beverage control laws.

Atherton police said they were called to the Lindforth home at 12:03 a.m. Saturday. Officers Terence Green and James Wakefield responded, arriving in front of the Lindforth home as the car occupied by the juveniles sped off in the opposite direction. They gave chase, and nabbed the culprits.

On Monday morning, Officer Green pulled into the Elena avenue-Park lane intersection and noticed a mail box knocked over. He had passed the intersection only a few minutes before, he reported, and the mail box had been standing at that time.

Officer Green said he noticed a car headed south on Elena and followed it onto Valparaiso avenue, thence to Sluis' home.

Damage to the car indicated it had been used to knock over the mail box and questioning and a check of the area revealed the other damage.

Dedications Set For High Schools

Dedication ceremonies for Ravenswood and Woodside High Schools will be held early next month, Dr. Rex Turner, Sequoia High School District superintendent, announced this week.

Dedication of the Woodside plant has been scheduled for 3 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 5, and dedication of the Ravenswood school will be held at the same hour on the following Sunday, Oct. 12.

Mrs. Helen Kerwin of Atherton, president of the district's board of trustees, will present the schools to their respective communities, at both rites.

The dedication of the Woodside school will open with combined music by the school band, augmented by the Sequoia High School band, playing the national anthem.

The Rev. Ralph York, pastor of the Woodside Road Methodist Church, will give the invocation.

Dr. Turner will then welcome members of the community and introduce distinguished guests, after which Mrs. Kerwin will make her presentation.

Accepting the Woodside school on behalf of the people who it serves will be Mrs. Richard Morrall, president of the high school's PTA.

Presentation of gifts, by community organizations, will follow.

The Rev. J. Armstrong, of St. Pius church, will offer the benediction.

Dedication of the Ravenswood High School will follow the same general order, except that the Ravenswood High School will be augmented from Menlo-Atherton High School.

The Rev. Albert Pickthorn of the East Palo Alto Community church will read the invocation; Reverend Richard Howley of St. Francis of Assisi church will give the benediction.

The school will be accepted, on behalf of the community, by Ravenswood High School PTA President Mrs. James Yamakoshi.

Signup Still Goes On

First day registrations at Woodside and Menlo-Atherton high schools Monday indicated both schools may be somewhat over anticipated enrollments, when all students are signed up.

And at Woodside, which opened its doors for the first time, Principal Willard Bradley reported "one of the smoothest openings ever" and added a quotable:

"This school is like an easy chair. It looks nice when it's empty, but it's more comfortable when you're in it."

Bradley said that, at the end of registration Monday, there were 1049 students at school; 72 students who had pre-registered had not picked up their assignment cards, however.

"I'm sure that some of these 72 students have moved from the district but even so, we're already well over the 1000 enrollment which was estimated before the opening of school," he observed.

At Menlo-Atherton, a total of 2014 students appeared for classes Monday morning. These included 92 new registrants, previously unknown to the district.

ENROLLMENT UP

"We have several who were registered last spring and who didn't appear Monday," a spokesman for the administration said, "but we expect there will be some late arrivals also."

Menlo-Atherton was supposed to open with an enrollment of about 2000.

At Woodside, Bradley credited the smoothness of the opening to three factors: The tremendous amount of work done by staff members last spring and during the summer, the exceptional way in which faculty members took over and set up assignments and the "excellent attitude" of the students.

"The students appeared friendly, and were eager to get started at their new school," Bradley observed.

He said some of the younger ones were guided to their classrooms by a group of about 30 student volunteers. The volunteers have been meeting during the past several months, and chose the school's colors as well as set up plans for the opening.

Bradley said that the school's cafeteria operated on an emergency basis Monday, since some flues weren't installed. He said he expected it to be in operation yesterday.

At Menlo-Atherton, about 90 students volunteered to aid new arrivals. They included all members of the boys' and girls' Block MA societies, as well as volunteers.

"There were a few freshmen who got lost but I think this was the quietest opening day we've had here in the seven years the school has been in operation," the Menlo-Atherton spokesman said.

Neither Bradley nor administrators at Menlo-Atherton reported presence of any hula-hoops, dogs, or other distracting influences.

Enrollment Lower At Ravenswood

Monday was a fine day for the 569 students and 42 faculty members who opened the new year at the new Ravenswood High School n East Palo Alto.

Principal Donald L. Bogie reports that opening of the new building and organization of first classes "ran smoothly." Says Bogie,

Principal Bogie reports that first day registration is somewhat lower than the 650 anticipated, but that many have signed up last spring that didn't appear on Monday. There were also a few new registrations, from students who hadn't made the spring sign-up.

Those who registered successfully had the satisfaction of noting that several boys and girls from Cubberly and Menlo-Atherton high schools were knocking at the door seeking admission to the new building. Principal Bogie says that all were told they would be welcomed, but that they had to prove they lived in in the Ravenswood district. Most returned to their own buildings.

Despite lack of some furnishings, the students liked their new school.

Furnishings for the new 12-sided library have yet to come.

Planning Group To Aid City Center Plan

Menlo Park city planning commissioners this week formally moved to get into the "civic center development planning act," requesting that they be included in city council discussions of how the center should be laid out.

The council last week reopened discussions of layout of city-owned land at Ravenswood avenue and Alma street, with an informal discussion at which it was indicated that there's a difference of opinion as to which street the development should face.

TENTATIVE PLANS

The move to help with civic center planning took the form of a motion to the city council.

Tentative plans for the area include those for placement of a youth center, new police station, new city hall, possibly an auditorium and other units.

Some of the units, such as the police station, are tentatively set to be included in the city's proposed bond issue of next year.

When the whole area is developed, it may represent an investment of up to $2,000,000, according to some estimates.

Burglars Enter Cafe in Menlo

Police this week were still seeking the burglar who on the morning of Sept. 3 stole a small but undisclosed amount of money from the Grubstake, 888 El Camino Real.

The burglary was found at 4:40 a.m.; last employee to leave the building reported he left at 12:05 a.m.

Woman Injured In Freak Mishap

Mrs. Betty Dezur, 42, of 471 Clarement street, lost several front teeth Saturday afternoon, when a car she was driving crashed into her own home.

The freak mishap occurred, police said, when Mrs. Dezur stopped the auto in the street, to talk to neighbors next door; she then attempted to maneuver out of the way of an approaching vehicle and a sandal she was wearing got entangled with the accelerator.

She was treated at Palo Alto hospital.

Two Are Injured In Atherton Crash

A Redwood City cab driver and his passenger were taken to Sequoia hospital for treatment of apparently serious internal injuries Saturday evening, after the vehicle in which they were riding was hit on its side while crossing El Camino Real at Selby lane in Atherton.

Hospitalized were Manuel F. Campos, 55, driver of the cab and Joseph M. Hoff, 57, of 241 Selby lane in Atherton.

They were crossing the highway's southbound lanes when the cab was struck by an auto operated by Edward A. Prodger, 22, also of Redwood City.

Lots of Help:

More Aides Named as 319 Reunion Nears

More of the community's organizations have joined the ranks of those who are to aid in the Sept. 20 welcome of Camp Fremont veterans to Menlo Park, marking the 40th annual reunion of the 319th Army Engineers.

1. The Italian American Social Club of Menlo Park has made its headquarters on Oak lane available for a barbecue, at which musicians of the Sixth Army band will be feted following their participation in the welcome, to be held between 3 p.m. and 5 p.m. that day.

2. The Menlo Park Chamber of Commerce, in a letter mailed to its members this week, urged merchants to avail themselves of display materials, which are available to be loaned by the volunteer committee in charge of the welcome.

3. The "Eager Beaver Band," made up of patients at the Menlo Park Veterans hospital, has agreed to add its talents for the afternoon program at Fremont park.

4. Members of the Menlo Park Rotary, Kiwanis and Lions clubs have agreed to aid the program, wherever needed.

Meanwhile, the returning Camp Fremont Veterans—anybody who was at the army training center in 1917 and 1918 is welcome to join members of the 319 Association in a day of reminiscing—are making it known they'll have a good delegation on hand.

Ken Thomson, president of the 319th, said that his first mailing to members, advising them of the fete, got replies from more than 150 former Engineers.

"The replies I got were by return mail," he explained. "These were from members who weren't the least bit hesitant in making up their minds to come."

Thompson said that one of the reservations was mailed from Illinois and another from Seattle.

Although the structure of the Saturday program isn't complete as yet, Thompson advised that, so far, it includes the following:

On Saturday afternoon, members of the 319th will converge on the Menlo Circus club, from which tours of west Menlo Park—the former army camp—will be conducted.

At 3 p.m. all present will gather at Fremont park, where members of the city council, the service clubs, the Business and Professional Women's club and others will welcome them on behalf of the community.

The Rev. Thomas McKeon, pastor of Church of the Nativity, will give the invocation and the Rev. Dr. Floyd Barr, assistant pastor of the Menlo Park Presbyterian church and himself a former World War I army chaplain, will give the benediction.

"The speeches of welcome will be kept short, everybody on the arrangements committee has agreed, and the music and "fun" portions of the program are to be the main points of interest in the program," Thomson observed.

Among the latter is expected to be the attendance of Phil Silvers, who has been reported as planning to come to the affair.

The program will conclude with lowering of the colors at 5 p.m., after which the musicians for the affair will adjourn to the Italian American Social club. Mrs. Joseph Kelly and Mrs. Ralph Clifford are in charge of arrangements for their barbecue and Cliff Heaton and Fred Durant, both members of American Legion Post 828, will act as chefs.

Meanwhile, the 319 association and the other Camp Fremont Veterans will adjourn to the Circus club for dinner and further reminiscences.

Voter Signup Deadline Today

County Clerk John A. Bruning yesterday issued a last-minute warnoing to residents: today is the deadline for registering to vote in the November general election.

"You must reregister if you have moved, or become registered if you are a new resident in San Mateo County to be entitled to vote in the general election," warned Bruning.

Registration qualifications are 21 years of age, one year's residence in the state, 90 days residence in the county, and 54 days residence in the precinct prior to the day of election.

Residents are offered every convenience to permit their registrations. The Election Department in the Hall of Justice and Records ant city clerks' offices throughout the county will take registrations during office hours. In addition registration deputies will be on duty at the times and places indicated at the following locations to accommodate persons unable to register doring normal business hours.

The city clerk's office is scheduled to be open from 7:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. for last-minute registrations; a deputy registrar is also on hand between 6 p.m. and 9 p.m. at Clifford's Pharmacy, 693 Santa

In addition, all six stations of the Menlo Park Fire District will remain open until 10 p.m.

Cruz avenue.

"Those who are eligible should register at once to be entitled to vote and express their opinions in November," advised Bruning.

Planners Okay Big New Office

Menlo Park planning commissioners this week approved plans for the Consolidated Freightways executive office building to be constructed in Linfield Oaks opposite Homewood place.

The rambling, ranch-style structure is to be built on a 3.3 acre parcel, and is to be owned by J. Cyril Johnson.

The building is to have 19,000 square feet of floor space and will cost in excess of $300,000.

A resubdivision of the present 12-acre undeveloped portion of Linfield Oaks' professional-administrative zone was also approved by the planners, to expedite the construction.

Local Firm Aids 'Atlas' Program

Sierra Electronic Corp., situated at 3885 Bohannon drive in Bohannon Industrial park, has been listed as one of 35 northern California firms which are "primary suppliers" for Convair's Atlas Intercontinental Ballistic missile.

Convair, a division of general Dynamics Corp., in a release this week, noted that Sierra manufactures wave analyzers and coax attenuators for the huge rocket, which is being manufactured in San Diego.

CONTRACT IS LET FOR PARK LIGHTS

City of Menlo Park last week issued an $800 contract for wiring of lights across Nealon Park, from Middle avenue to Little House and for a light standard near the Menlo Park library. Electricians are awaiting delivery of proper wire, City Manager John R. Johnson said early this week, before going ahead with the job.

NEW MOTORCYCLE IS EXPECTED BY POLICE

Police in Menlo Park were this week looking forward to delivery of a new motorcycle, to replace an older unit which has travelled more than 54,000 miles. The new one is expected momentarily.

Atherton 4 Her Wins at Fair

A Shropshire ram owned by Gary Petterson of Atherton last week was judged state champion 4-H animal in that category of judging, at the California State Fair in Sacramento.

A Shropshire ram entered by Petterson also won in the yearling ram division; a yearling ewe took a fourth place ribbon in that division; a ewe lamb of Petterson's also won fourth place honors and his flock took second place, for groups of Shropshires.

Two Studies:

Planners, C of C Group Eye 'Double Deck' Parking Here

Menlo Park city planners Monday night agreed to undertake a cooperative study of "double decked" offstreet parking in the city's downtown plazas.

The study was instigated by the parking committee of the Menlo Park Chamber of Commerce' parking committee, members of which have already contacted engineers for tentative sketches and purely tentative cost estimates.

As, if and when the city's existing parking plazas are double decked, a spokesman for the Chamber of Commerce group declared, it might well mean an increase of about 80 per cent in the capacity of the three plazas in lots adjacent to Santa Cruz avenue. These three lots now have a capacity of 685 autos.

Asking that the planning commission participate in the study was Albert J. Giannotti, director of the Chamber, who appeared with Parking Committee Chairman David Ingram.

Giannotti said that, as a downtown property owner as well as a C of C member, he was interested in such future development. He presented engineer James Stratta, who said that he had studied double-decked offstreet parking in such places as Sacramento.

The second deck would not be raised more than about eight feet above ground level, Stratta said, meaning that such garages would not change the general profile of the business area.

Planning Commission Chairman Pro Tem George Cleese Jr. noted that, during last Christmas season, it was estimated that as much as 80 per cent of the space in the plazas was used by employees working in the stores.

The commission directed City Planner Richard Gamble to work with Ingram's committee, at the same time agreeing to study Stratta's preliminary drawings.

A meeting of the C of C group and the commission will be scheduled at some future date.

Police Car Hits Window Here

A plate glass window at a beauty salon at 1148 Chesnut street was broken late Sept. 3, when the brake on a police prowl car slipped while the officer was out of the vehicle, checking doors.

Lieutenant Tony DeOampo said last Thursday that the car involved was one of the department's older ones, having in excess of 50,000 miles on the odometer. He said the patroling officer had left the vehicle standing in an alley across Chestnut street, and had left it temporarily.

Menlo Park police cars are equipped with automatic drive.

'Lined Up Like Stores':

Planners to Take 'New Look' At Sharon Estate Church Plan

Menlo Park city planners don't think "churches should be lined up side by side, like stores." And so saying, they called for more study of a proposal to set up three of them along the Sand Hill road frontage of Sharon Heights.

At the same time, the planners set Oct. 6 as date for hearing on a use permit for a proposed Catholic church and parochial school at Avy and Altschul avenues.

The planners called for further study of church sites along Sand Hill road after City Planner Richard Gamble reported that the developers of the Sharon estate are now petitioned by three church organizations for land in the area.

Previously named were the Church of the Latter-Day Saints and the Episcopal church; the third church was not named before the planning commission.

Planning Commission member Silas Payne said he wasn't sure that lining churches up on one street was a good idea.

"In every manual I've read on city planning," he said, "church development has always been mentioned as a natural supplement to the residential area of the community.

SEES PROBLEM

"I think there are several problems to be studied here, including the traffic problem, and that we should give further consideration to this matter."

Other planners agreed.

Meanwhile, commissioners were informed that a proposed location for a future Menlo Park Fire District station has been pinpointed to the west of a previously-designated area, where it would be on top of a knoll and also at a four-way intersection where feeders from Stanford Hills and the Sharon estate would meet Sand Hill road.

City Planner Richard Gamble said the site was selected because motorists approaching the intersection will be able to see the intersection from a greater distance than was possible in a previously-designated firehouse site.

The planners are to study the matter of church location, at their Sept. 22 study session.

'2-Way' Building Plan Set for Traffic Study

Plans for construction of a "two-way" building at 885 Santa Cruz avenue ran into a snag, when presented before the Menlo Park planning commission Monday night.

The building, according to owners Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Moulthrop, is to have two store units and one of these is to be occupied by a cleaning establishment. Plans called, they said, for a "drive up" arrangement at the rear of the store, to which store workers could be called.

Planners pointed out that ultimate plans call for a six-foot sidewalk along the rear of stores facing the south side of Santa Cruz avenue, leaving 14 feet of clear driveway for a one-way alley.

They said they thought this would interfere with the plans for the cleaning establishment, but held up further consideration until the city traffic safety commission has a chance to study the matter.

They also asked that design of the front of the building be reconsidered with an eye to installing planting.

Attendance Area Boundaries Cause Busy Day

Confusion over boundary changes and relocation of classrooms from over-crowded areas kept staff and parents of Ravenswood Elementary School District pupils "busier than usual" on opening day, Monday.

A total of 4712 students reported for classes in the district's 10 schools. Supt. Stanley O. Schnepple reports that enrollments were as follows:

Belle Haven, 427; Brentwood, 892; Costano, 502; Green Oaks, 520; Flood, 363; Kavanaugh, 752; Menlo Oaks, 264; O'Connor, 263; Ravenswood, 102, and Willow, 627.

Despite the confusions, the opening day went smoothly. Administrators report that the first day census of dogs, accompanying students to school, was unusually light this year. At day's end, almost everybody knew where they belonged.

Fire District Annexes Sharon Lands

Menlo Park Fire District Commission officially acepted a petition for annexation of the 190-acre portion of the Sharon estate land at their regular meeting last Monday night.

No one was present at the protest meeting to contest the addition of the Sharon property to the district. The commissioners accepted the petition unanimously.

In other business, Chief Carter reported that he had attended an interim committee meeting in Sacramento last week on "consolidation of Fire District Acts."

Carter spoke before the committee, representing the six chiefs from San Mateo County. The Menlo Park District revised their act in 1957, and the state is now contemplating the consolidation of other acts into one or two similar to Menlo Park's.

Assemblyman Carl Britschgi, present at the Sacramento meeting, commended the Menlo Park Fire District before the committee.

Carter will take to the road again next week, as he will attend the International Association of Fire Chiefs convention in San Francisco Sept. 15-20.

Chief Carter also reported to the commissioners last week that the District was coming along fine with their change-over from 1½-inch threads to National Standard on their hoses.

Bike-Auto:

BOY INJURED

David Bradshaw, 5-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bradshaw, of 2645 Illinois street, suffered a severe brain concussion last Wednesday when he rode his bicycle into the path of an automobile at the intersection of Illinois street and Purdue avenue.

His mother reports today, that the youngster is in "fair" condition and that possible length of his stay at Palo Alto Hospital is not known.

The accident happened at 10:20 a.m., when the bicyclist came around a corner from behind a hedge into the path of a car driven by Chet B. Shultz, 59, of San Francisco. California Highway Patrol officers report that Shultz was traveling between 10 and 15 miles an hour.

The youngster is one of six children. He has an older brother, Michael, 10, and sister, Gail, 8, and a younger sister, Ann, 4, and two younger brothers, Byron, 2, and Kevin, 4 months.

Paul Belvel at Company Meeting

Paul Belvel of 660 Evergreen street has been named a member of the West Coast Life Insurance Co.'s leaders club, and attended the company's convention at Santa Barbar earlier this month.

Belvel, a member of the San Mateo agency of the company, has been a member of the Leaders club for the past three years. He joined the firm in 1954.

CUB SCOUT LEADERS

Menlo Park, East Palo Alto, Atherton and Woodside Cub Scout leaders will meet for their monthly leaders' roundtable September 17 (Wednesday) at 7:45 p.m. at Willow School kindergarten room, Menlo Park.

Atherton Woman To Get GOC Medal

Mrs. A. H. Ryan of 76 Rittenhouse avenue in Atherton next Monday will be cited for more than 100 hours' observation work with the Palo Alto Unit of the Ground Observer Corps, when the group holds its quarterly meeting at the Palo Alto civic center .

Members of the unit will hear a talk and view a motion picture, both of which will deal with "Missiles".

Mrs. Rittenhouse, along with other members of the GOC team, maintain observation headquarters atop the President hotel in Palo Alto.

LOUIS E. KELLY GETS MUSIC DEGREE

Louis E. Kelly, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Hall, 1481 Franks lane, Menlo Park, received the master of education degree from Linfield College, McMinnville, Ore., following the close of annual summer school sessions last month. Kelly is a music teacher in the Salem, Ore., public school system.

ROUNDTABLE SET

Menlo Park, East Palo Alto, Atherton and Woodside Boy Scout leaders will meet for their monthly leaders' roundtable Sept. 17 at 8 p.m. at Willow School, room 18, Willow road, Menlo Park.

Landmark Disappears:

Career of Old EPA Swimming Pool Ended by Pile of Dirt

Once the center of activity for more than 300 swimmers daily the large swimming pool in Palo Alto Park, near Addison street, East Palo Alto, became a covered-up memory last weekend.

Work on filling the pool was sponsored by the Palo Alto Park Property Owners Association, who took on the responsibility in 1955 when the county health department ordered the pool closed.

Last weekend, the project was finished by Gillespie Bros., contractors. Now that the large hole is filled, the Palo Alto Park Mutual Water Co. will get to work on construction of a needed sump hole for use when draining one of the five company wells.

Reportedly built in 1863, the pool was fed from redwood pipes tied together with wire, and was lined with large cement blocks. Its sloped walls enclosed an area 75 feet by 175 feet long. In the early days of East Palo Alto, the pool served as a source of irrigation water for the large prune orchards nearby.

Harry Wilcoxen, superintendent of the Palo Alto Mutual Water Co., reports that 14-inch cement irrigation pipes leading from the pool are all around the district.

"Whenever we come to them we just take a sledge hammer and go right on through," explains Wilcoxen when speaking of the placement of modern lines.

During World War I, the pool was used by the horse and mule depot of Camp Remount, in connection with Camp Fremont (located at Menlo Park). Records show that the cavalrymen used the pool for recreational swimming.

In 1925, the Koff Realty Co. made an unsuccessful attempt to make the pool the center of a community development. Four years later they turned it over to the water company.

With the exception of three years during World War II, when the large pool was used as an emergency storehouse for water, the pool was used as a swimming and recreational area. The property owners group was in charge of the recreation program.

The year before it was closed, the pool boasted an average of more than 300 swimmers daily. Lack of automatic chlorination facilities was the major reason the county declared the pool unhealthy. Its use was abandoned in favor of the new pool built by Ravenswood Recreation and Park district at University avenue and Bell street.

Future for the almost 100 year old pool site is indefinite. Once the sump is finished, the Property Owners hope to erect barbecue pits and plant turf for general community use.

Sertomans Plan Saturday Picnic

Members of the Sertoma club of Menlo Park and Palo Alto are to meet at Huddart Park in Woodside Saturday afternoon, for a potluck picnic, which will feature a "Sertoma vs. Little League" baseball game.

The affair, according to a Sertoma spokesman, is to begin at 3 p.m. and dinner is to start at 5:30.

Because of the Saturday outing, members of the club held their weekly luncheon on Tuesday of this week, rather than on the regular Thursday date. Meeting place was the Stone Cellar, where the group's regular weekly gatherings are held.

Menlo College Faculty Meets, Plans for Year

The Menlo School and College faculty held its first meeting of the year Wednesday morning in the Florence Moore auditorium. President William E. Kratt welcomed the faculty and outlined the plans for the year. He announced that a capacity enrollment in both the School and College would begin ariving on the campus on Sunday when all resident freshmen at the College and all resident students at the School will report.

New members of the College staff were introduced to the group They are: Duval Y. Hecht, Felix K. Knauth and Dr. Robert A. Ward who will teach in the English department. Dr. S. Laird Swagert professor of Political Science at San Jose State, will offer one course in Political Science during the coming year.

John H. Colbaugh, new headmaster of Menlo School, was also introduced to the combined faculties. Colbaugh succeeds Chrisaopher A. Connor who retired as headmaster on Aug. 31.

Two new instructors have been added to the faculty of the School of Business Administration: Merrill M. Vanderpool will teach Personnel Management, and David A. Diegelman will teach Real Estate. Vanderpool served as president of the Palo Alto school board for many years. Diegelman is with the real estate firm of Crosby and Diegelman.

Following the general faculty meeting the faculties of the divisions met with their respective heads: the College with John D. Russell and the School with John H. Colbaugh.

MEETINGS RESCHEDULED

The Sequoia High School District board of trustees, at its meeting Sept. 3, selected Wednesday, Oct. 8 and Wednesday, Oct. 22 as dates for meetings next month, rather than first and third Mondays.

San Carlos Girl Hurt in Crash

Barbara Johnson, 17, of San Carlos was admitted to Sequoia Hospital the evening of Sept. 3, after suffering cuts about the face and losing a couple of teeth in a three-car auto accident here.

Miss Johnson was a passenger in an auto driven by Curtis Talbot, 17, of Redwood City. Talbot's southbound auto. police said, ran into the rear of an auto operated by Kathleen Neff, 19, also of San Carlos.

Miss Neff was driver of a car stopped in the rear of a third southbound auto, one driven by Reginald K. Kennedy, which was preparing to make a left turn on the highway at College avenue.

Temporary Classrooms in Menlo Ready for School Opening

All of the classrooms rented by the Menlo Park Elementary School District were ready for occupancy when school opened yesterday.

However, District Superintendent Dr. Mel Homfeld warned last week, "serious consideration" should be given to expensive repairs to the 10 rooms at Laurel school, if the district plans to use them for several more years.

Dr. Homfeld's warning was coupled, however, with reports of progress at the two classrooms rented from the Presbyterian church at Santa Cruz avenue and Johnson street.

These, he said, have been provided with additional chalk boards and tack boards, and school district crews are proceeding with paving an area which will serve as a playground for the two seventh grade classes which will be housed there.

Turning to Laurel school, the superintendent observed,

"I believe the school board should give serious consideration to a major expenditure of funds at Laurel school during the coming fiscal year should the district fail in its efforts to obtain permanent housing for the pupils.

"The continuing problem of far below standard lighting is one that this community should not tolerate in any of its schools over any extended length of time."

"We have occupied these rooms for three years and to continue to do so indefinitely with seriously deficient artificial and natural lighting is difficult to justify," Homfeld went on.

Commercial Land Development Poses Question

Whether or not a single, undeveloped lot in the city's downtown business district can be developed by itself, instead of in coordination of adjoining properties, will be the subject of a public hearing on Oct. 6.

The property is owned by Pauline G. Eler and is situated at 1055 Crane street. It backs up to a public parking plaza and is bordered by an alley on one side.

Mrs. Eler, in a request put before the planners this week, asked that she be allowed to rezone the front portion of the property for commercial use, giving the other half of her land for parking.

Chairman Pro Tem George Cleese pointed out that originally, it was the intention that undeveloped portions of the business area be developed in such a manner that no peculiar-shaped lots or parking areas resulted.

Census Report Due Tonight In Ravenswood

Report on a census of school children living in the Ravenswood Elementary School district will be made tonight at the first fall meeting of the Ravenswood Citizens Committee.

The survey had been conducted by members of the Parent-Teachers' Association during the summer months, under the leadership of Cecil Brewer, sub-committee chairman.

Mrs. Thomas Huston, general chairman, reports that studies of the current financial status of the district will not be completed in time for a report tonight. Members of the Citizens Committee are studying all aspects of the various problems confronting the rapidly expanding district.

Mrs. Sibyl Terman, a specialist in remedial reading, will be featured speaker at tonight's session. Mrs. Terman is co-author of a book on "Reading Chaos and Cure" and wife of Dr. Fred Terman, provost and Dean of Engineering at Stanford University.

Tonight's meeting, to which all citizens of the area are invited, will be held at 8 p.m. at the district office, 2160 Euclid avenue.

Boy Scouts Hold Court of Honor

Boy Scout troop 212 of East Palo Alto held a Court of Honor recently to present first and second class awards.

Scouters promoted to first class are Dick Schroder, Harry McMillen, Bill Cinquini and John Dewey.

The troop is sponsored by the Men's Club of St. Francis Church.

MRS. DUNCAN NAMED CLASS INSTRUCTOR

Mrs. Neva Duncan of Menlo Park, a special teacher in the Las Lomitas School District, has been named instructor for a course in folk dance instruction for the elementary schools, to be conducted under the auspices of San Jose State College Extension Services at Mae Nesbitt school in Belmont.

DISTRICT COMMITTEE

The Live Oak District Committee of the San Mateo County Council, Boy Scouts of America, will meet Sept. 16 (Tuesday) at 8 p.m. at Hillview School, Santa Cruz avenue and Elder street in Menlo Park. Presiding will be Lawrence Johnston, district chairman.

First Trojan Student Body Gets Handbook

The Trojans, who started studies Monday at the new Ravenswood High School, were greeted at the doors of the building by student guides and presented with a 20-page booklet outlining rules and procedures under which they will be operating during the year.

The handbook was prepared by a student committee consisting of Lynne Mizufune, Ronald Clark, Sandra Gravelle and Judy Prince. Vice-Principal Malcolm Taylor was staff advisor.

Opened with a word of welcome from Principal Donald L. Bogie, the handbook contains maps of the school layout, information on the staff of the school and general student services.

Various rules on such things as attendance, absences, smoking, grading, are explained in detail.

EPA High School Gym Set for May Completion

Working drawings which will guide construction of a gymnasium at Ravenswood High School are already developed and current scheduling calls for completion of the building in May of next year.

This was announced this week by Sequoia High School District Superintendent Dr. Rex Turner. Funds for the new unit were made available with passage of a bond issue last May.

Plans for the building have already been approved by state division of school house planning officials.

Janssen, Daseking and Keller, Menlo Park architects, are doing the drawings.

Dr. Turner pointed out that construction of the entire Ravenswood plant has been going ahead at an encouraging speed.

"We could have started classes in the building a month ago, he said, adding that a notice of completion has already been filed.

A notice of completion for fields and track at the high school was signed last week, bringing to a close construction under the $1,581,000 original contract for the school.

Old Paint Clothes Start $900 Blaze

An estimated $900 damage resulted from a fire which last Friday morning was discovered at the A. L. Thomas home, 315 O'Connor street.

Firemen said the blaze, detected by neighbors at 6:47 a.m., apparently started from a painter's drop cloth draped over a floor furnace.

The family had left the house the evening before, after doing some painting.

Guild Collects for Fall Rummage Sale

Collections have started this week for the fall rummage sale to be held Sept. 25, 26 and 27 by St. Francis Guild, according to Mrs. Phillips Peach, chairman.

The sale will be held from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. each of the three days and will be conducted at the old St. Francis Church, at Euclid avenue and Bell street.

Old Automobiles Damaged by Fire

Three autos which were awaiting dismantling were burned last Friday afternoon at a Haven avenue wrecking yard, Firemen reported this week.

They said the fire, detected at 2:46 p.m. was detected after a worker had used his electric torch to cut one part off one of the cars, then turned to another task.

MLS Sales Here Set New Record During August

If you are interested in local real estate, either as a buyer or seller, now is the time to act.

Thats' the advice of the Menlo Park-Atherton Board of Realtors whose Multiple Listing Service reported a record-setting $1,381,375 in sales during the month of August.

"Real estate activity is at its peak," according to Gary T. Williams, executive secretary, "with many buyers trying to get settled for the school term and a wide variety of available properties to choose from."

Williams added that financing is plentiful and there are no indications of an immediate tightening of mortgage money locally. He was supported in this statement by Fielding McDearmon, manager of the Menlo Park branch of the American Trust Co., who was guest speaker at the Realtors' luncheon meeting Monday.

Williams reported the 43 properties sold through the Multiple Listing Service during August brings the 1958 total to 310 sales valued at $7,726,919. The previous monthly high was September of last year with 44 sales valued at $1,107,850.

Chamber Reopens Drive for Safety At Intersection

Concern for the safety of student pedestrians in the vicinity of University avenue and Donohoe street was expressed by directors of the East Palo Alto Chamber of Commerce Monday morning.

It was reported that opening of the new Ravenswood High School had aggravated a long standing problem at the intersection and directors decided to launch an all-out campaign to get county cooperation on a safety installation.

Secretary-manager Thomas Tanna recently wrote to County Engineer Don Wilson about the condition of the intersection.

Tanna was authorized by directors this week to contact Supervisor William Werder on the matter.

Fear that "somebody's going to get killed there" before official action is taken was expressed by the chamber leaders. They seek a warning sign, dangerous intersection, or a signal light to help slow traffic coming off the freeway and from the overpass.

Tanna said, after surveying the area Monday morning, "Anything at all would be better than what it is now."

In a brief meeting, Len Austin was named chairman of a membership drive which will start immediately.

This is the sixth consecutive year that Sunset has received the gold medal award in the State Fair competition.

Bike Theft Ring Broken by Menlo Police

Six Menlo Park youths who attempted to escape when an officer spotted them dismantling bicycles at the rear of a Menlo Park home were in the hands of police this week.

The lads, whose ages range from 13 to 15 years of age, said they had taken five bikes from locations in Menlo Park and East Palo Alto during the past several weeks. The vehicles were taken to the city police station, there to await identification by owners.

The boys, who were released in the custody of their paretns, were nabbed last week when Officer Jerry Fletcher, on patrol in the Belle Haven area, saw the lads apparently dismantling bikes in the rear of an Ivy drive home.

When the boys spotted him, he said, one of them yelled "cops" and the lads scattered, one of them even attempting to close a gate which would have kept the officer out of the back yard.

Officer Fletcher said he regarded this as a suspicious circumstance, and rounded up the lads.

In all, he said, the back yard in which the boys were working contained parts of five bicycles, including four boy's bikes and one girl's bike.

Chamber of Commerce Economics Study Group Opens Sessions

Members of a Menlo Park Chamber of Commerce-sponsored discussion group were to gather for their first work session at 7 a.m. today, discussing "The Mystery of Money" during the session.

The session is the first of 12 weekly sessions being held at Central school. Twenty-one local businessmen are taking the course, designed to acquaint them with basic economics.

The sessions are being held at the board room of Central school.

Conducted in panel discussions and featuring extensive use of tape recordings, the sessions will continue through Jan. 22, with appropriate curtailments of program for holidays.

Besides the topic discussed this morning, others to be considered during future sessions include "Control of the Money Supply;" "Money, Income and Jobs;" "The National Income and Its Distribution;" "Progress and Prosperity."

"Sustaining Prosperity;" "Demand, Supply and Prices;" "Prices, Profits and Wages;" "Why the Businessman;" "How Competitive is the American Economy?"; "Understanding the Economic System and Its Functions;" "Spending and Taxing."

"Taxing, Spending and Debt Management;" "Labor and the American Economy;" "Individual and Group Security;" "International Trade, Investment and Commercial Policy;" "The Ethics of Capitalism."

Individual members of the group will rotate chairmanship of the breakfast discussion sessions.

Architect Estimates Building Needs in Ravenswood

Present building needs of the Ravenswood Elementary School district will cost between $600,000 and $700,000, according to a "rough guess" of architects working for the district.

Walter L. Keller, of Janssen, Daseking and Keller, Menlo Park architects, told trustees Tuesday night that his figure of approximately $650,000 was based on the number of classrooms asked by the board, and did not include exact information on such details as floor plans, furnishings, site requirements or pavement.

"At your next board meeting, I can be more definite," Keller promised.

Trustees, with an eye to proposing a bond issue next spring, have been outlining needs for classrooms in the rapidly expanding district. Their request for a cost estimate had been based on the following list of classroom needs.

Belle Haven, 8 classrooms; Menlo Oaks, 6; new school at Siri property (now under negotiation for purchase), 10 classrooms; Menlo Oaks multi-purpose and locker rooms.

Supt. Stanley O. Schnepple reported that a new appraisal should be obtained by the district before purchase of the Siri property, adjacent to Green Oaks School, since the county Planning Commission has claimed there is too much commercially zoned land in the East Palo Alto unincorporated area. He advised that the property should be considered for triplex residential, rather than commercial use and value.

Schnepple was asked to go ahead with making arrangements with trustees of the Sequoia Union High School district, as requested by Dr. Rex Turner.

Low square foot cost of the Costano School, designed by Peter Kump, architect, received national recognition in the August issue of Architectural Record. Schnepple advised the board that pictures and technical description in the trade magazine would be preserved as part of a permanent record in the architectural field.

As We See It:

Girls of Two Generations Aided the 'Con' Home

Somehow, the activities of three 10½-year-old girls who last weekend put on a neighborhood carnival for the benefit of the Stanford Convalescent Home has raised a memory here.

And it's also reminded us that next weekend's "Tally-Ho" party and horse show at the Menlo Circus club is for the benefit of the same worthy cause.

The memory? Well . . .

A few old timers may join us in recalling that, in the summer of 1923, a group of young Atherton girls decided to put on a circus. They brought their horses and dogs, and they put on a riding show and "circus" one afternoon. They charged admission and the proceeds they presented to the "Con home"—just as the three Menlo Park girls who put on the carnival did this week.

The "circus" certainly impressed the parents of the girls who put it on. They decided, in the weeks that followed, that the "circus" could be made an annual thing and, since land was inexpensive in those days and since most of the parents participating felt that all young ladies should learn how to ride horses and adopt other social graces, they established a "Circus Club" . . .

Times have changed since then, of course.

The circus club, through the years, has meant many things to many people, some of them having little to do with benefits for the convalescent home.

The price of land has gone to levels never conceived 35 years ago; nobody would think of getting together an acreage similar to that one in Atherton, just as a sort of a tribute to young ladies' efforts to learn the amenities and be charitable.

However, help for the Con home hasn't gone out of style. Need for such aid remains. That's why the Convalescent home auxiliary is putting on this weekend's party, to which you're all invited.

Saturday night's party and horse show will be an "adult" affair. Last Saturday's was by youngsters, for youngsters.

The purpose for which both were organized is a worthy one. We commend it to your attention.

Still More Building Funds Needed by Ravenswood Schools

Almost 10 percent of the school population of the Ravenswood Elementary School district is attending classes at a school not in their immediate attendance area.

Due to overcrowding of certain parts of the large district this year, particularly in Belle Haven, whole classes have been shifted. The youngsters are being transported in school buses.

Figures show that some 400 students, out of a first day enrollment of 4712 crossed the usual neighborhood boundary lines to get to school.

While "temporary", this wholesale shift points up a problem with which the 10-school district has been struggling for the past 10 years. How can an area with generally low assessment values support the educational system to which our children are entitled? The problem has been aggravated in recent years by a sharp influx of new school-age population.

To get the students back into classrooms within their own neighborhood, trustees in Ravenswood list an immediate need of 24 classrooms. Studies are now in progress on anticipated future school population, its age levels, and school needs.

If school administrators' estimates are correct, the district's problems are close to solution, and the 24 classrooms will take care of the school population "leveling" for several years to come.

Parents in EPA have been justly aroused this opening week of school by the necessity of their children traveling distances to schools. However, from all indications, there is only one solution to the problem—more classrooms, and that means, more funds.

—o—

New Teaching Techniques Aid School Economy, Too

While talking about the need for money for the support of schools, it might be well to note that some of the school agencies of the area are making significant strides in economy not only in building, but in economic use of educational materials as well.

Last year, for instance, the Sequoia High School District announced a new "micro-chemistry" set-up, which, simply through requiring students to use smaller amounts of materials in smaller containers in their experiments, allows students to do more work, eliminates the usual congestion in the storage room, and generally makes things easier.

Last week, Menlo Park School District set up a display of teaching materials not available in stores, but which can be constructed by the teachers themselves and which, it's asserted, help youngsters understand.

These innovations are probably more valuable than one would suppose at first glace. Though the money saving may not be great, they save an intangible, but very valuable item: students' time.

—o—

Fire Prevention Week A Full-Year Job

Just now, members of the staff of the Menlo Park Fire District are starting their formal planning for Fire Prevention Week, Oct. 5-11.

A little early to start publicizing it, you say? Not at all.

The firemen, more than anybody else, realize that every week should be "Fire Prevention Week" everywhere. They themselves train all year long, with the result that the Menlo Park Fire District is pretty well known as one of the best anywhere.

Why not start your own "Fire Prevention Week" right now, and renew it every Thursday morning through the year?

TELLS US:

One of the reasons property owners don't like to install planting boxes in front of new stores in the downtown area:

Pet owners have the habit of letting their animals use them as comfort stations.

In fact, some dog-owners have the habit of lifting their pets into raised planter boxes, members of the city planning commission were told this week.

* * *

Designers of a new sign designating the location of the new Red Cottage motel at 1706 El Camino Real are probably scratching their heads.

The sign, located in county area, is 23 feet tall and, county planners said last week after the sign had already been ordered, this was three feet too much.

The county board decided that Menlo Park might like to say something about the sign, too, since the unincorporated area in which it's situated is pretty close to the city limits.

The Menlo Park pundits said they didn't object to the height of the sign. If the Red Cottage was within the city limits, they said, it could be 25 feet high and still be legal.

But, they added, the sign is too big—or would be—if it was in Menlo Park.

Not only that, City Building Inspector James D. Steiger pointed out that it's a free-standing sign, at the head of an easement. So it's hard to figure just how big it should be. (The city usually aims at keeping sign sizes in some sort of relationship to the length of the building front on which they're located.)

It's presumed that the owners of the sign will do everything they can to make all these official people happy.

Street Workers Paint El Camino

Street department workers last week completed painting of "heel and toe" parking spaces along the west side of two blocks of El Camino Real.

Under this system, cars are parked close together, with manuevering space indicated between them. The system has been tried out during the past three months, along a single block of Santa Cruz avenue.

Municipal Report:

Menlo-Atherton Area Residents 'Ignore' the Hospital They 'Own'

Among dedicated public servants, those who earn a living by operating public agencies as efficiently as they can, a frequent, wistful comment is that the public often forgets they are there — or doesn't seem to care — except on the occasions when a taxpayer reads the fine print on his tax bill.

Grousing about taxes is a popular citizens' sport, but when a service is needed, the public often forgets to avail itself of services his taxes have paid to provide, or even goes elsewhere to obtain them.

One agency that might harbor such hurt feelings in regard to residents of Menlo Park is the Sequoia Hospital District.

Menlo Park has been part of the district since its formation in 1947. During the years since, Menlo Park residents have paid thousands of dollars to build the hospital, at Whipple avenue and Alameda de las Pulgas in Redwood City.

Yet in the fiscal year ended June 30, 1958, while 1315 Menlo Park residents were admitted to Sequoia Hospital, 2021 went to Palo Alto Hospital.

From Atherton, 249 went to Sequoia, 379 to Palo Alto.

More than three out of five area residents chose the older, more crowded facilities of Palo Alto Hospital, despite the fact that their care at that institution cost them $3.50 more per day. To district residents, for example, a day's care in a semi-private room costs $18.50 at Sequoia, $22 at Palo Alto.

Habit, proximity and convenience are, of course, the reasons for this seemingly strange situation, and it is doubtful if the picture ever will change very much.

WORTH THE $3.50

For the doctor, it is unquestionably more convenient to have all his hospitalized patients at one place, and the nearer of the two is Palo Alto. For the patient, too — and for his visiting family — it often is worth the $3.50 a day in extra charges to go to the closer facility. And with completion of the new Palo Alto-Stanford hospital, even the modernity of Sequoia compared to Palo Alto's dingy antiquity will cease to be a factor.

Whether they use it or not, however, taxpayers of Menlo Park and Atherton should know that they are part of the Sequoia district and should know something of the public facility they have paid—and are paying—to create.

Besides the two southern communities of the county, the district includes Woodside, Redwood City, San Carlos and Belmont.

The district, formed in February 1947, voted two bond issues — in 1948 and 1949—for a total of $2,100,000 to build the first unit with 106 beds. This opened its doors in October, 1950.

Another bond issue for $985,000 was approved by the district in 1952 to more than double the size of the facility by adding another 109 beds.

Now under construction—and 35 percent complete—is another addition to add 135 beds. This current expansion was provided for by a bond issue of $2,925,000 voted in October, 1956. Completion is expected in March, 1960.

For the last five years, the hospital has been self-supporting insofar as operational expenses are concerned. Since that time, taxing powers of the district have been limited to paying off the hospital's bonded indebtedness.

Highest tax rate levied in the district's history was during the year 1951-52, when 20 cents per $100 of assessed valuation was devoted to operation and maintenance, 24 cents to bond retirement and interest.

This cost the average district taxpayer something like $17.60. The following year, the operational tax was reduced to 14 cents, and was eliminated thereafter.

The bond retirement tax sank to its lowest figure in the year 1956-57, just prior to approval of the latest bond issue. In that year, the district's average taxpayer contributed something like $3, through an 8-cent tax rate, toward providing the hospital facilities. Last year the rate was 18 cents, probably will be something like 20 cents this year, according to district Administrator Max Gerfen.

Of the hospital's 215 beds, 201 were occupied on the average day during the past year. Since the 201 patients cared for during the average day is close to the hospital's maximum, it is not surprising that a total of 1228 patients had to be cared for in the halls.

The hospital was the scene, during the year, of 2091 births, 223 deaths, 2280 major operations, 4078 minor operations, 10,174 emergency room cases.

30 Years Ago:

City Council Upheld Cops, Blasted Rumors

The files of the Menlo Park Recorder reveal that, 30 years ago this week, the following items, here reproduced exactly as first published, were news in the young community:

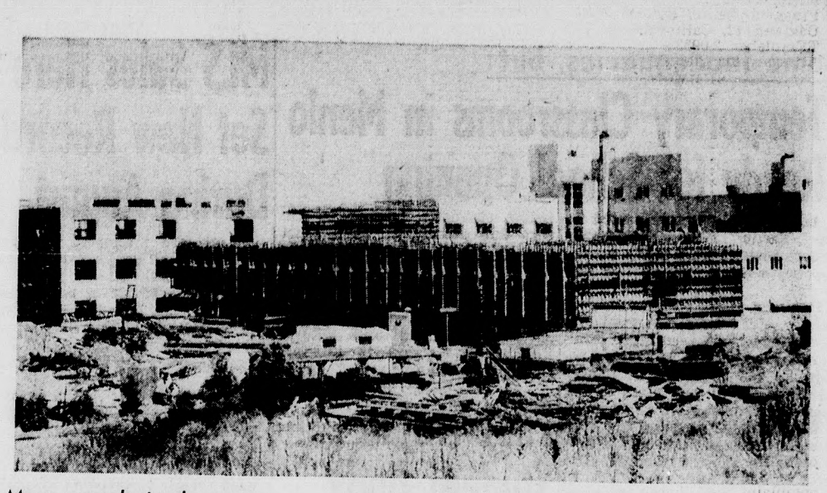
September 14, 1928:

"CITY FATHERS HOLD RED "HOT SESSION "TUESDAY NIGHT

"A unanimous vote of confidence was tendered the police department by the City Council at the meeting held last Tuesday evening in the city hall. The rumors which had bee nwidely circulated about the streets to, to the effect that the police department was due to be centured failed to materialize and instead the members of the board took the occasion to score the circulators of the false rumors and the tales of slander that have been going the rounds of the city, against practically all of the officials and declared that in the future no attention would be paid to such tales unless they were made in writing and properly filed with the city clerk.

"Councilman A. E. Blake stated that he, as commissioner of police should receive the report of Chief of Police Furman. He stated that in the past the Chief had been reporting to any member of the council who happened to be handy, but that in the future he should demand that all reports be made to him alone. Mayor Weeden took exceptions to these remarks and stated that he thought ot was perfectly proper for the police to report to any member of the board . . .

"After quite a lengthy discussnon it was decided that City Attorney George K. Whitworth should inform each of the city officials as to just what his duties are . . ."



More people in the area . . .

. . . means that more people will find themselves in need of Sequoia hospital's facilities, being augmented with the construction of the new wing shown above. The hospital is a publicly-owned facility, operated by a district board of trustees and owned by the taxpayers of an area almost conterminous with Sequoia High School district, less the Ravenswood School district.

Walter Tells of

Gramma School

"Gee. My home is certainly quiet since the children went back to school," observed Walter the Weathermouse, as he delivered his reports this week.

"What are the youngsters studying?" he asked.

"Syntax," said the rodent.

"Surely," we said, "you mean to imply that they're in grammar school."

"Not so!" remonstrated the mouse. "The kids know all they need to about Gram'ma! She's been spoiling them for years! What they're studying now are the excise taxes charged on anything that's both fun and illegal."

C of C, Rotary Plan to Hear Candidates

First in the series of meetings to hear candidates discuss major issues will be held next Wednesday noon by the Chamber of Commerce of Menlo Park.

The chamber will join with the Rotary Club to hear Congressman J. Arthur Younger, Republican incumbent, at a luncheon at Fraternal Hall, 645 Roble avenue.

Myron D. Alexander, chairman of the Congressional Action Committee, has arranged a question-and-answer program to identify and interpret major issues coming before the next Congress. Mel Homfeld, school superintendent, will be moderator, timekeeper and sergeant-at-arms.

Mrs. Elma Oddstad, Democratic candidate, has been invited to meet with the chamber for a similar program at a later date, according to Jack Robertson, program chairman.

Chamber members should make reservations for themselves and any guests as soon as possible at the chamber office.

'Space' Is Topic Of MP Rotarians

Members of the Menlo Park Rotary club yesterday heard about "Space Technology" from Dan Wentz, a spokesman for the Ames Aeronautical laboratories at Moffett Field.

Wentz was introduced by Dr. Harry Foley, program chairman for the day.

The Rotarians meet for their regular weekly gathering each Wednesday at 12:15 p.m. at the Fraternal meeting hall, 645 Roble avenue in Menlo Park.

Two from SRI Aid Program

Richard W. Melville of Stanford Research Institute has been named vice chairman and chairman for the technical program of the 1959 Western Joint Computer conference, to be held in San Francisco March 3-5.

Earl T. Lincoln, also on the staff of SRI, will be in charge of mailings which will go out in advance of the meeting, which will feature discussion of progress and new developments in the computer industry.

OBITUARY

Mother Shannon

Requiem Mass was said yesterday at the chapel of the Convent of the Sacred Heart for Mother Mary Frances Shannon, 92, Religious of the Sacred Heart, who died Monday evening at the convent.

Mother Mary had been a teacher for about 60 years, serving at various convents maintained by the order. She had been at the local convent since 1932, and retired from teaching about 10 years ago.

A native of Santa Cruz, she leaves no near relatives.

Funeral arrangements were made by Tinney and Sons, Palo Alto funeral directors.

County Comment:

State's Freeway Master Plan Has Appeal—but Money Problems

By FLOYD M. McCUE
Editor and Publisher, Redwood City Star-Advertiser

The outline of a highway building program for the state which will run into billions of dollars sounds like wise and timely planning for the future. The 20-year plan would about double the present state highway system to meet growing demands and provide freeways into every city and area of the state.

The saving in driving time, not to mention a drastic reduction in traffic deaths, makes the program appealing as well as urgent. The fact that the job can be done without an increase in present taxes is welcome news.

This program of state (and federal) building tends to emphasize the recent battle of Peninsula cities to get more of the gas tax dollar to meet the growing demands within the cities. Freeways skirt through, over and around communities, but the poor municipal government officials are left with the task of trying to maintain present streets, not to mention the demand for wider and expressway routes to get people to their destination quicker and safer.

We point up the sad mess city officials face by looking at the state allocations to the three south Peninsula cities in the last 10 years: San Carlos received $137,725 in 1947-52, $142,034 in 1952-55, and $175,095 in 1955-58, for a total of $760,654 for the 10 years. Menlo Park fared little better, getting $137,999, $185,662 and $237,419 for those periods for a total of $561,040.

Redwood City was allocated $277,755, $279,149 and $369,614 for a total of $925,518.

These allocations allow for street repair and maintenance and funds for major streets which have been approved by the state highway department.

Any major project would have to be financed by a bond issue or some other means. The $100,000 county handout to cities this year will actually mean little except to a few scattered projects that cities could not finance by themselves. If cities are to keep up with the ever-growing state freeway system some mans of aiding the local governments must be found.

San Mateo county's own road fund is not bulging with dollars. In the past 10 years the county has received $11,596,025 from state and federal matching funds as well as gas taxes. In those same years the state division of highways has spent $50,655,000 in this county, which officials describe as "nearly three times its guaranteed minimum allocation."

The greatest expenditures came in 1955-58 with $25,828,000. The state spent only $7,069,000 in the county in the years 1947-52 and $17,758,000 for the period 1952-55.

Early construction of Junipero Serra Freeway is something that will add about $40 millions to the county highway network costs with approximately 90 per cent coming from federal funds.

The state is planning to add another lane to both north and south routes of the new Bayshore Freeway down the Peninsula. Work on the first stages is expected to get under way in the spring.

Other large state projects that show promise of construction within the next few years would include Willow road in Menlo Park, Woodside road in Redwood City, Ralston avenue in Belmont and 19th avenue in San Mateo, the latter to connect the Skyline (Junipero Serra) with the San Mateo-Hayward bridge. Underpasses must be built at numerous Peninsula intersections to give the east-west travel safe and swift passage.

Cities, too, cannot forever keep the roadblocks that are denying trucks the right to travel in their business. This means that fast, through arterials must be planned and oenstructed. No one wants hundreds of gravel and construction trucks racing by his home or schools every day in the week, but trucks are a necessity in the progress we are making and have a big part in the future programs.

In a report issued earlier this year, state highway officials noted that the Bayshore Freeway carries 70,000 vehicles a day in the section north of San Mateo, with the figure going to 120,000 per day on portions of the freeway in San Francisco. El Camino Real, planned as a six-lane divided arterial, is carrying 23,000 cars per day north of San Mateo.

If we double the county's population in the next 10-20 years as most experts agree, one can see what the area's highway and street problems will be. The state is planning well for its part in this progress but the cities, stymied by lack of funds, seem to be tied to the stake with no apparent means of raising the needed capital.

A few weeks ago we suggested that the state add another cent to the gas tax collections to be used strictly for city arterial constduction. This plan, if the League of California Cities would agree, could over the years finance the needed jobs.

It is either that or the state must take over many of the major arterials as part of the highway system and do the jobs from the present gas tax levy.

Costano School Recognized By Architects

Costano Elementary School, completed by the Ravenswood Elementary School District in 1955, this month again received national recognition for its low per square foot cost of construction.

At the time of its completion, the elementary school had the lowest square foot costs in San Mateo County at $9.23—as opposed to an $11 or more average. Third wing added in 1956 was equally economical.

The August issue of "Architectural Record," a trade publication, devotes three pages to the school as an example of how to build good schools economically. The issue devotes one of its major sections to "The Cost Problem in Schools," and refers to the two-edged architectural challenge of providing complete education facilities at as cheap a cost as possible.

Costano—a three-unit elementary school, "is of higher than prevailing quality level for similar communities, and is marked by many refinements of design leading to easy maintenance, efficient education use, and comfortable, attractive child environment," the article says.

Of special interest to the architects is a detailed description of the construction of the wood frame buildings on a reinforced concrete slab base. Principal sources of economy in the school were seen as exploitation of a dimensional medule and repetition of large space units, as well as their smaller components. Rooms at the school were grouped back-to-back in four to form units under continuously roofed rows.

The magazine display shows designs of Architect Peter Kump, layout and construction details of the three wing building. It emphasizes that the end-product gives a "low, rather domestic quality . . . (which) gives a pleasant child-scale at low cost."

Nativity Men Hold First Meet

First fall meeting of members of the Nativity Men's club was held last night at the church parish hall, marking the start of activities for the new social year.

Members of the group met for a retreat at El Retiro Sept. 5, 6 and 7.

Program chairman for last night's meeting was Gene Giannotti, who introduced Dr. Lawrence Cook. Dr. Cook has traveled extensively in Eastern Europe and in Africa, and discussed some of his overseas adventures.

Rev. Vorsheim To Be Installed As Pastor

The Rev. H. George Vorsheim, D.D., who was organizing pastor of the Woodside-Portola Presbyterian Church, will be installed Sunday night as its first permanent pastor.

Dr. Vorsheim started work in Portola Valley a year ago, having come here from Westminster Presbyterian Church, San Jose. The new church was officially organized July 20.

Ceremonies to be held at 8 p.m. at Portola Valley School multipurpose room, 775 Portola road, have been arranged by the Presbytery of San Francisco.

Six ministers will participate in the installation program: Dr. Clarence Kirchner, pastor of the Sunnyvale Presbyterian Church, will preach the sermon; Dr. Floyd Barr, interim pastor of Menlo Park Presbyterian Church, will give the charge to the pastor; Dr. Roy W. Peyton, pastor of the new San Bruno church, will give the charge to the congregation.

Dr. F. S. Dick Wichman, moderator of the Presbytery and director of the Chinese center in San Francisco, will preside and officially install the pastor.

Prayers will be offered by Dr. George Bone, pastor emeritus of Menlo Park church and Dr. Malcomb McAfee, pastor of Westminster Foundation at Stanford University will read the scriptures.

The public has been invited to attend.

Election Officer Candidates Sought

Persons desiring to serve as election officers in their precincts during the November general election this week were urged to apply at once by County Clerk John A. Bruning.

Although many applications already have been received, Bruning said, appointments to precinct boards in many areas of the county still remain to be made Application forms are obtainable at the offices of all city clerks in the county, at the election-registration department.

Inauguaral Services for Atherton Baptist Fellowship Are Sunday

Initial services of the Atherton Baptist Fellowship will be conducted at Encinal school at 11 a.m. Sunday, it was announced this week by the Rev. Robert W. Wheaton, pastor.

In announcing the services and inviting all interested members of the community, Reverend Wheaton announced that Dr. C. Oscar Johnson, who has held the highest offices in the two largest Baptist conventions in the United States, will be featured speaker at the inaugural worship service of the group.

Reverend Wheaton himself has taken up residence in Menlo Park, having moved with his wife and child to 1131 Sherman avenue.

Dr. Johnson has served as president of the Baptist World Alliance, the highest honor which can be given any member of the faith. He has travelled extensively, raising money to help refugees in wartorn countries of Europe and Asia.

At the present time he is a member of a committee planning a six-year evangelistic program, to be conducted on a world-wide basis.

He has served as pastor of the Third Baptist Church of St. Louis for 27 years, but resigned this year to accept a position as professor of homeletics and evangelism at the Berkeley Baptist Divinity School.

Menlo Park Man Heads Division At Varian Plant

The appointment of Richard M. Whitehorn of Menlo Park to the new position of manager, Radiation Research for Varian Associates is announced by Dr. Willis J. McBride, manager of the Radiation Division for the Palo Alto electronics firm.

In making the announcement, McBride said the creation of the Research department is a planned step in the growth pattern of the recently organized Radiation Division.

Whitehorn, who lives at 150 Mimosa way, is a graduate of the John Hopkins University. Following wartime service in radar and communications with the U.S. Navy he spent five years as an engineer in radar and guidance systems and component development at Bendix Radio and three years as a staff member at Lincoln Laboratory where he was engaged in manned data systems analysis, data and facsimile transmission equipment development and radar systems and components development.

Since joining Varian Associates in 1956, Whitehorn has been a senior member of the engineering staff engaged in the design, development and evaluation of advanced communications, radar, navigation and missile systems and components, and has been acting as a technical consultant on many aspects of the company's present and future operations.

Robert Erving Gets Marine Rank

SAN DIEGO (Special) — Meritoriously promoted to the rank of private first class and winner of a rifle trophy, Marine Robert M. Erving was selected as one of the top men of his recruit platoon at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot here on Aug. 28.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert R. Erving of 70 Linden avenue, Atherton.

Erving received his promotion and trophy awards during graduation ceremonies upon the completion of 11 weeks intensive recruit training.

His initiative in learning, leadership qualities and knowledge in military matters earned him his promotion.

He fired an outstanding score of 235 out of a possible 250 points with the M-1 rifle on record day of his three weeks rifle training and won himself a first place trophy for the highest score fired among some 284 men of his training series.

Prior to his three year enlistment into the Marines in June 1958, Erving had graduated from Menlo-Atherton High School in June 1953. He went on to attend Dartmouth College for 3½ years where he majored in English.

Explorer Unit Spends Week In Sierra Trek

Explorer Scouts of Post 223 spent the week of Aug. 18 in the High Sierra area of Inyo National Forest.

Traveling by car to Agnew Meadows, near Devils Postpile Monument, explorers packed to Lake Ediza which served as a base camp. From this point various hikes to points of interest were taken, and scouts enjoyed a multitude of other activities which included fishing and summer-"winter" sports.

Scouts who took the trip were Ken and Will Ackles, Larry Hall, Ron Enomoto, Don Cameron, Jim Haas, Carl Eagle, Dave Byrns, Gene Erreca, Doug Behr, Bob Carlton, Ken McGinnis and John Olsem.

Leaders in charge were K. M. Ackles and E. E. Carlton.

Bethany Lutheran To Install New Teachers

Sunday at the 11 a.m. worship service of Bethany Lutheran Church, Avy and Cloud avenues in Menlo Park, Miss Harriette Helzer will be installed as the fourth full-time member of the church's staff.

She will teach grades 1 and 2 in Bethany Christian day school, which this week began its fourth academic year with an enrollment of 65 youngsters.

Miss Helzer's home is in Oakland, where she attended Concordia Junior College. This past spring she received her B. S. in Education from River Forest Teacher's College, a denominational normal school in Chicago, Illinois. Other members of the faculty are Mr. L. D. Waak and Mr. E. J. Hansen.

Following the installation service Sunday, a reception honoring Miss Helzer will be held in the parish hall.

Club Honors Baseball Players

Walter Mails of the San Francisco Giants was guest speaker last night at a special baseball dinner given by the St. Francis Men's Club of East Palo Alto for players in the summer league. Medals were presented to all players on two teams sponsored by the club.

Winners of the parish championship were the Padres, coached by Asr Rotes and Jim Munill. The Padres came out ahead by winning a two out of three series with the Franciscans last week. Winning pitcher Bobbie Crum was on the mound during the 7 to 5, and 8 to 7 winning games. The Padres dropped the series opener 5 to 10.

Gary Vercellino, pitcher for the Franciscans, won one, lost one. Coaches for the Franciscans were Merle Moore, club president and

40 Practice Under New M-A Coaches

With one eye on his squad of 40 football candidates and the other on the calendar, head coach Art Boettcher is sending his Menlo-Atherton Bears through rigorous practice sessions this week.

M-A's first game is only two weeks away (Sept. 26 at Campbell) but the Bears need a lot of "ironing out" before they'll be ready, according to Boettcher.

"Some of the boys didn't take summer conditioning too seriously," said Boettcher — " so most of our work this week has been in running and conditioning."

Expected to pop up on next week's practice agenda will be the learning of the new Bear offense, the Split-T.

NEW COACHES

This is Boettcher's first season as head coach of the Bears—just as it is the first season they've used anything but a Straight-T formation. Another newcomer, Bill Whitaker, will be line coach.

The squad suffered a setback last week when Jerry McCormick, a lineman with fine potential, reported that his injured knee would keep him out of the lineup for the entire year.

Offsetting the loss of McCormick and the summer loss of halfback Rosie Jones to the Navy, the Bears will be gaining two youngsters they earlier thought were attending Woodside.

The two juniors, Ted Ludeman, fullback, and Tom Bromson, tackle, were expected to report for practice with the Bears yesterday.

LACK OF DEPTH

A lack of depth seems to be the most pressing problem facing the Bears, along with the question-mark of the Split-T.

The fight for most of the positions on the team is still "wide open" at this time, according to Boettcher. Both the quarterback and fullback positions are only three deep, with several of these players inexperienced in varsity competition.

At quarterback, Lynn Larson, Rick Wright and Charlie Aparicio rate one-two-three. Willie Waller, Ed Protiva and Ted Ludeman will be fighting for the fullback slot.

Halfback candidates are John Finegold, Don Conley, Dick Burns, Hugh Smith, Mike Mallin and Lynn Vandervoort. Finegold is touted to nail down one of the spots, with Conley, Burns and Smith excepted to vie for the other.

The crop of end prospects seems comfortably deep, with nine boys listed. The group is led by George Pitt, Pete Edelen, Dave McDowell and Dave Baker.

Other end prospects are Larry Kramer, Bob Burks, Mike Skuce, John Brigham and Paul Gaetano.

LINE CANDIDATES

Roger Patterson, Dennis Cox, Danner Richardson, Bob Hayes and Tom Bromson lead the tackle parade, with both Patterson and Cox having varsity experience.

At guard, Mike Geib and Doug Christie have the most experience, but they are pressed by Dave Means, Frank Buscaglia, Larry Wagner, Paul DuPont, Rich Castello, George Fakhouri, Ernie Bouskos and Larry Blaich.

Center hopefuls are Larry Krenzin, Howard Sleeper, Mel Akutagawa and Brad Kerwin.

OTHER M-A SPORTS

Frosh-soph football, varsity water polo, frosh-soph water polo and C & D basketball practices are underway at Menlo-Atherton this week.

Frank Bettencourt, frosh-soph grid coach, held his initial sign-up yesterday, and will have his boys on the field today and tomorrow for practice sessions.

Bob Gaughran, M-A's newly-hired swimming and water polo coach held his sign-up earlier this week, with 20 reporting for frosh-soph water polo and 11 for the varsity splash sport.

Listed as varsity candidates by Gaughran were Chuck Ott, Roger Johnston, Bob Kinsley and Doug Hancock, forwards; Pat Patterson, Jim Kirkland and Don Benjamin, goalies; and Jim Niven, Bill Corton, Bob Kaldveer and Stan Gordon, guards.

Bill Loftus, Bear C & D basketball coach, received a total of 74 signatures for his teams. He was expected to break the boys down into their exponent groups yesterday. The cagers were practicing yesterday and will do so for the remainder of the week. The first M-A cage games will be Sept. 19.

Practices opened this week for the Bears and these three young gentlemen have already tabbed themselves as possible starters. Woodside Signs 90

When area sports dopesters predicted that Woodside High School would someday be a major athletic power in the area, they weren't too far from wrong.

At least not from indications received during the first week of football practice at the new school.

Coaches Vern Sterling and Bob Pool were quite pleased this week after 90 candidates turned out for football. And this is without a senior in school.

Fifty-four sophomores and juniors signed up, while 36 freshmen trotted out for the opening-week drills.

How many of these youngsters will stick it out is another line of thought, of course.

"Maybe someone told these guys I would be an easy coach," said Sterling, Tuesday, after surveying his list of unknown grid candidates. "We'll dispell with that rumor in the next few practice sessions."

Sterling and his assistant and backfield coach, Bob Pool, will handle both the Jayvee and frosh-soph squads together. They will get further aid from Jim Luttrell, who is at Woodside for one semester from the Carlmont High School. Luttrell, a former track star at Stanford, has volunteered his talents and will work primarily with the ends.

Because of transportation difficulties, much of Woodside's football equipment has not arrived yet. Sterling said that he has no hip pads, thigh pads, knee pads or practice pants for his boys.

While many of the faces among Sterling's 90 candidates are new, he does have information on some of the players he will be counting on.

Heading this list is a promising sophomore from Menlo-Atherton last year, end Dennis Brock. There had been some doubt as to whether Brock would attend Woodside. Also coming highly-recommended from M-A are Cubby Welch, Lennea Borg, Warren Grinnell, Bill Jankord, Jim Jorgenson and Ken McGinnis.

A junior, Chips Conlon from Sequoia, may have an inside line on the quarterback job.

Welch is also a quarterback candidate, although a little short on experience. Both Borg and Jankord will be trying for the starting fullback position.

Sterling plans to run what he calls "a race-horse offense," with emphasis on his backfield running off a modified Split-T formation.

The first game for the orange-white crew will be Friday, Sept. 16, at Half Moon Bay.

Trojan Athletes Begin

Trojan teams from Ravenswood High School—the first of what is hoped to be a long line of successful squads, are going through opening round drills this week.

Expected to be in full uniform by today or tomorrow will be at least 25 junior-varsity football candidates. A somewhat slim sign-up was recorded last Monday, as only 35 showed up for the JV grid squad, coached by Howard Costello.

Approximately 30 signed up for coach Tom Revera's frosh-soph squad, but members of both squads were spending much of this week getting their physical examination and insurance papers straightened out.

Tom Crane's C&D basketball prospects weren't shining too brightly after last Monday's sign-up session either, as only a total of 15 names were recorded. Crane expects to maintain a total of at least 30 boys on his C&D teams.

More athletes, or prospective ones, are expected by the end of this week by the coaches. The basketball teams have only 12 days before their first contest of the year. Costello's footballers will have a little more time to round into shape, with the season opener with Buchser of Santa Clara set for Friday, Oct. 3, away.

It is still undecided among the Trojan coaching ranks whether Ravenswood water polo teams will compete on a varsity level this year. They are tentatively scheduled by the SPAL for varsity competition, but the final decision will not be known until after the first SPAL coaches' meeting, which is scheduled for next Tuesday, Sept. 15.

Although Costello is still uncertain about the eventual number of Jayvee football candidates, he has named several who are expected to form the nucleus of this year's squad.

They are as follows:

SOPHOMORES, Backfield: Paul Kessinger, Guy Funabiki, Manuel Delacruz, Hardy Watkins, Mike Phelan and Robert De Fillo.

Line: Randy Kimball, Mario Gallardo and Dave Wight.

JUNIORS, Backfield, Alonzo Hopkins, James Mosley, and Doug Brownell.

Line: Dave Taylor, Mike Klawin and Vernon Jones.

Two Heads with a Big Job . . .

. . . That's the situation in store for head coach Art Boettcher (left) and his assistant and line coach Bill Whitaker, the two new football coaches at Menlo-Atherton High School. Their big job will be teaching the M-A Bears how to run from a Split-T offense . . . successfully. The first Bear game is two weeks away, and practices officially began this week. —Recorder Photo.

M-A Hires New Water Polo, Swimming Coach

The final addition to Menlo-Atherton's still short-handed coaching staff was made last week when Robert Gaughran was hired as swimming and water polo coach for the coming year.

Gaughran, 23, is a former water polo and swimming star from Sequoia High School, and went on to greater fame in college.

At College of Pacific, he was the most valuable water polo player for the three years he attended, and captain of the team.

AAU CHAMPS

In 1957 he was a member of the San Francisco Olympic Club team that won the National AAU Outdoor water polo title.

In 1956, his brother James, was a member of the Olympic Games water polo team. Bob was first alternate but didn't make the trip.

MP Soldier in Army Swim Meet

Pfc. John M. Malcolm, son of Mrs. L. Malcolm, 242 Semi Circular avenue, Menlo Park, participated in a recent swim meet conducted by the 101st Airborne Division's 327th Infantry at Fort Campbell, Kentucky.

Malcolm, a radio and telephone operator in the infantry's Company B, entered the Army in November 1957 and received basic training at Fort Ord, Calif.

Coach Tells Quarterback to Attend School Somewhere Else

Probably the only coach in the nation to advise his returning first-string quarterback "to go to another school" last week was Menlo College's Bo Molenda.

The quarterback was Dave Ryan, ace helmsman from last season's Oaks squad that won only one of nine games, and perhaps the best returning veteran.

Ryan had hoped to enter the University of California this fall—but was one-half a grade point shy of meeting Cal's rigid academic requirements.

He came to the Menlo College coach recently with his news that he might as well come back to Menlo College—but Molenda said no.

He advised Ryan to attend Oakland Junior College or somewhere similar—just long enough to raise the grade point, so he could try again to get into U. of C. in February.

"Since he is so close to entering Cal—I just hated to see a fine prospect lose an entire year of eligibility by playing for us again," said Molenda.

As it is, Ryan will still have three years of football ahead of him at Cal, if he enters as planned in February.

How's that for a good turn, Mr. Elliot?

★ ★ ★ ★

Ryan's successor may be one of several newcomers on the Oaks squad. Of the 46 candidates reporting last Monday—35 of them were strangers to Molenda.

Two peninsula quarterbacks who looked impressive in early passing drills were Ex-Carlmont ace Ron Sweet and last year's aerial threat from Palo Alto, Don McPhail.

Hewlett Packard Wins Menlo Park Softball Title

Hewlett Packard wrapped up Menlo Park's industrial softball league in a convincing manner last week, dousing second-place Dymec in the final game, 7-2.

The Packards finished the summer with a 9-1-1 mark, while Dymec and the San Mateo Probation department teams had 7-4 marks.

In the final game, pitcher Rick Harmon gave up only two hits, striking out seven. Don Reeves and Bob Wardwell nicked Harmon for base knocks in the third and fourth innings.

Don Willits was the losing pitcher, and for Hewlett Johnson had two hits.

HOMECOMING

Menlo College football team's annual joust with Hartnell JC will be the feature of the school's annual Homecoming, to be held here Nov. 1.

The Homecoming will commence at 10 a.m. with dedication of a new student center on the Atherton campus. The football game will follow. Menlo Homecoming games are always held Saturday mornings to allow participants to view other area football games in the afternoon. Stanford will be playing USC that day.

Plans Call for Two 4000-Seat Stadiums in Sequoia District

Plans call for eventual development of both Sequoia High School's Terremere field and a second major athletic plant in the district as 4000-seat stadiums, District Superintendent Dr. Rex Turner said this week.

He added that members of the school district board of trustees are currently studying whether to have the district's second field illuminated, or not.

Dr. Turner issued his explanation following last week's announcement that the trustees will consider, within the next few months, whether to construct the district's second major athletic plant at Woodside or at a proposed high school scheduled to be built west of San Carlos.

Dr. Turner pointed out that the district can finance the stadium improvements with "civic center" tax monies, which are a legal overrider available above and beyond the districts' tax rate. Thus, the facilities can be constructed without dipping into bond issue funds approved by the voters last May, designed for future high school construction.

As to whether or not the future second major field should be lighted or not, Dr. Turner indicated there has been a minor discipline problem at Terremere.

"Our people are pretty good," he explained, "but the ones who create trouble are the recent graduates who return to see a football game, and who feel they're no longer liable to supervision by faculty members stationed in the stands to maintain order."

The superintendent gave no date for the start of construction of new bleachers on the south side of Terremere field.

2500 SEATING NOW

The present bleachers on the north side of the field have a seating capacity of about 2500, so seats for 1500 will have to be built, along with toilet facilities.

In the future, additional toilet facilities will be available on the north side of the field also.

Dr. Turner said that the school board has already approved plans for a new boys' gym at the Redwood City campus; it will be built between the field and the existing gym, so that classes can be continued in the old one while the new building is under construction.

46 Report For Menlo College Football Drills

McPhail Aims For QB Slot

Don McPhail, number one quarterback for the Palo Alto Vikings last season, seems to be stepping into a similar role this fall at Menlo College.

As the first week of practice nears completion for coach Bo Molenda and his 46-man squad, McPhail and several other first-year men have already stamped themselves as first-rate performers.

Hot on the heels of the ex-Paly lad, however, is Ron Sweet of last year's Carlmont High School team. Both boys have displayed sharp passing arms in early practice sessions.

The Oaks will face their season opener next Friday, Sept. 26, at 2:30 p.m. on their home field. West Contra Costa will provide the non league competition. The first JC Coast Conference game won't come until Oct. 17, against Vallejo, away.

TENTATIVE 1ST TEAM

With the closeness of the West Contra Costa game in mind, coach Molenda has already formed his tentative first string. Seven of the 11 named are first-year men.

At ends, second-year man Andre Delagnes and newcomer George French are out in front. Pete Johnston of Claremont, and Tex Kantzer from Houston, Texas are tentatively the starting tackles, with Jim Mashburn of Sequoia and Pete Pellerito of Culver City ranking tops among the guard candidates. All of the tackles and guards are freshmen at Menlo.

Dave Fox, Turlock High School star last season, has been working as center for the Oaks.

VETERAN HALFBACKS

While Ron Sweet and Don McPhail fight it out for starting quarterback honors, two veterans are slated to open the season at halfbacks.

They are Jay Shuirman of Fremont and Don Powell of Menlo-Atherton. The fullback spot is filled at present by Ed Thomas.

Other area players on the squad are Frank Atkinson, tackle from Menlo-Atherton; Bayard Bookman, backfield candidate from Carlmont; Charles Dahl, end from Menlo Atherton and back prospect Ted Heckathorn.

The Oaks roster, excepting players already mentioned, is as follows:

'This Is It, Boys' . . .

. . . says head football coach Bo Molenda to his squad of 46 Menlo College candidates. The junior college crew began practices last Monday, and held their first contact work Tuesday afternoon. Molenda has over 30 first year men on the squad, many of who were star performers in area high schools last season. The first game for the Oaks will be Sept. 26, with West Contra Costa. —Recorder Photo

Jack Curtice Jr. Enters Paly High, Joins Grid Squad

Jack Curtice Jr., son of Stanford's head football coach (Cactus Jack himself), has entered Palo Alto High School.

Young Curtice, who was to be co-captain and quarterback of the East High School football team in Salt Lake City, Utah, this year, is out for football at Paly.

Although the Curtices live in Menlo Park (3812 Alameda de las Pulgas), Jack Jr. received an inter-district transfer from the Sequoia District to attend Palo Alto.

He wants to study aeronautics and Palo Alto High is the only school in the area that offers the course.

At Mark Farmer Gallery:

Collection of Carmel Artists Shown at Allied Arts Guild

The first exhibition on the San Francisco Peninsula of the current collection of Carmel artists is being shown at the Mark Farmer Gallery at the Allied Arts Guild.

The show will run for two weeks beginning September 3. Among the artists exhibiting are the following: Joe Ataide, Eugene Baker, Ann Rugh, Donald Paul Bloom, Gene Elmore, Joseph Feurborn, Jaxon, Landaker, Zyta Lakey, Rip Matteson, Rollin Pickford and Marlinde Von Ruhs.

This exhibit marks the formal opening of the Mark Farmer Gallery, although it has been in existence for about two months. Mr. Farmer is a graduate of Stanford University, the class of 1955, having majored in fine arts and painting.

SON OF PROFESSOR

He is the son of Professor Farmer who has been in the art department at Stanford for 30 years. Profesor Farmer is at present teaching at the new Stanford campus in Germany.

After graduating from Stanford, Mark Farmer had two years of service with the United States Navy where he was the administrative officer aboard the seaplane tender, the USS Pine Island. This ship was the flagship of the commander of the Formosa patrol. While he was in the Far East, Mr. Farmer did painting as well as color photography.

OTHER WORKS

Along with some of his own paintings and those of his father, the gallery has on exhibition the paintings of Professor Daniel Mendelowitz of Stanford, Mrs. Anna Wu Weakland, and the Ukranian-born Palo Alto artist, Vassyl Kreschevsky.

There will be an invitational preview at the gallery Tuesday, September 2 from 2:30 to 6 p.m. The gallery is open every day except Sunday from 10 a.m. until 5 p.m.

The Allied Arts Guild, Arbor road and Creek drive in Menlo Park, is run for the benefit of the Stanford Convalescent Home.

Sierra Club Hikes on Mono Indian Trail

Phil and Nancy Fling (DA 3-7650) will lead a seven-mile hike along the Old Mono Indian Trail for Sierra Club members this Saturday and Sunday, Sept. 13-14.

The Loma Prieta chapter members will camp overnight at Sardine Lake (10,000 feet). A side trip to Walker Lake is also scheduled for the knapsackers.

Other weekend activity for Sierra Clubbers is scheduled for Sunday, at Mindego Ranch of Arnond True. The group will meet at Skyline and Page Mill road at 9:30 a.m. Sunday before traveling to the top of the volcano 13 million years old. The hike down will be approximately 10 miles.

Leaders for the Mindego Ranch hike will be Helen and Charles Scull, DA 3-9141.

Rock climbing is also scheduled for Sunday at Hunters Hill, under the leadership of Ed Sutton, CY 2-2101.

Hunters Hill is one of the best practice climbing and rapelling rocks in the area. Members are expected to come prepared for a two-hour drive and a mile of upholl walking. They will meet at the Palo Alto depot at 8:30 a.m..

Gem-Mineral Annual Show Sept. 20 - 21

The Santa Clara Valley Gem and Mineral Society will present their annual show this year on September 20 and 21, at the Army Reserve Armory, 155 W. Rosa street, San Jose.

The hours will be from 10 a.m. until 10 p.m. on Saturday, the 20th, and from 9 a.m. until 6 p.m. on Sunday, the 21st. There will be a small admission charge of 25 cents for those over 12 years of age.

Among the exhibits will be the Jupiter's Jewelry that was given such high commendation at the Federal Exhibit. It is the first time that Northern California will have the opportunity to see the oversize jewelry, made from immense gem stones set in jewelry fit for a giant to wear. It is the result of a year's combined effort of the Verdugo Hills Club members.

If your interest lies in the realm of flowers there will be many beautiful arrangements by the Nature's Designers Arrangement Guild interspersed between the cases of the big variety of work done by members. There will be about 75 cases of crystals, minerals, polished gem stones, transparencies, jewelry, and novelties.

Ravenswood Pool Starts Weekend Swimming Schedule

The Ravenswood Recreation and Park District has issued a reminder to residents that the swimming pool will be open only weekends after Admission Day, September 9. If weather permits, the pool will offer swimming on Saturdays and Sundays through the month of September .

Interest has been expressed in a women's swimming class in September and if a sufficient number of women wish to participate in such an activity a class will be formed. Interested women should call and leave their name at the District office, DA 3-6671.

Peninsula Community Band:

Call for Musicians — Practices Get Underway Wed., Sept. 17

Peninsula Community Band begins fall quarter practices Wednesday, Sept, 17, at 7:30 p.m. in room 127 of the Palo Alto High School, El Camino Real at Embarcadero road.

Men and women from Menlo Park, all Peninsula communities, etc., are eligible to join the band.

Bandmaster Nathan Chasin today announced openings in the wood wind section for players of B flat and alto clarinet, flute-piccolo, baritone sax, bassoon and oboe. Baritone sax and piccolos can be furnished by the band.

DRUMMER NEEDED

The percussion section has an opening for a snare drum-tympani player, who is familiar in some degree with all percussion instruments. Applicants should know the basic drum rudiments and be able to sight-read drum music, Chassin said.

Vacancies exist in the brass section for trumpet, trombone, tuba and French horn. French horns, tubas and trombones can be furnished by the band.

Musicians who are interested in joining the band and can attend most Wednesday practices should apply first to band manager Robert L. Holland, DA 3-4379 evenings.

ADVANCED GROUP

Several years experience in professional, military, college or high school symphonic band or orchestra playing is preferred since the band is an advanced group.

Community band sight-reads and interprets classical, musical comedy, march music, etc. It is a musical adult education activity.

Cubberly and Carlmont are the final two SPAL basketball foes this season for Menlo-Atherton's A & B cagers. The games will come Feb. 13 (a Friday) and Feb. 20.

SRI Exhibits Paintings of Carlos Marida

Paintings by Carlos Marida, Mexico's leading abstract painter, will be exhibited during the month of September at the office gallery of Stanford Research Institute.

The examples of Merida's work on view this month are from the collection of Dr. and Mrs. MacKinley Helm of Santa Barbara.

One is an early painting (1924) from the period when he first began showing in New York. Others are improvisations of themes from ancient Indian legends of Mexico, in the abstract style for which he is best known.

Born in 1893 at Quezaltenango, Guatamala, Merida developed early precocity and at 17 went to Paris for four years of study and painting. He lived in the same studio with Picasso and Modigliani and came to know them well.

He went to Mexico in 1919 and found a public receptive to his folk themes—and from there went on to fame.

His sophistication and skill have been applied to a wide range of expression in the graphic arts, furniture design, costuming and book illustrating.

Twisty 2-Mile Cobb Mountain Road Awaits Sports Cars This Weekend

A twisty two-mile mountain road will challenge sports car drivers this weekend at the Cobb Mountain hillclimb, sponsored by Sports Cars Unlimited and sanctioned by the Sports Car Club of America.

The course, the same one used in 1956 and different from last year's route, has some 25 turns and climbs some 1000 feet from a meadow to Gifford's resort.

The event, which will headquarter at Hoberg's resort (Lake county), is open to all drivers who hold either novice or senior SCCA competition licenses. Competition will be divided by make of car in the production classes, while the normal SCCA racing classes will apply for modified divisions.

A victory banquet will be held Sunday evening at Hoberg's. Spectators at the hillclimb will be charged $1 for a pit pass to help pay for insurance. The climb will commence Saturday morning when contestants go up the course caravan style for a familiarity run.

★ ★

Some 130 drivers turned out for the first practice session to be held at Vaca Valley Raceways by the Racing Driver's club Sunday. The day-long session was divided into practice for novice and senior drivers, and was local driver's last chance to test the course before SCCA national races are held there Oct. 4-5.

Two new Jag 150-S roadsters made their appearance at the course, thereby giving spectators a clue to some hot competition between the new Jaguars and Corvettes. Cliff Wright of Modesto, one of the Jag drivers, reported that the car gave a little to the Corvettes on the top end, but went through the wide turns faster.

★ ★

J. P. Knustle turned up with a Sebring Porsche coupe and Sid Colberg's XK-SS Jaguar (ex-Sam Weiss car) was on the course during the day.

Local drivers Fred Knoop in the Chevy-powered Huffaker special, Emil Pardee and Dr. Peter Talbot in Porsches, and Roger Mace in several cars, were among those taking a few laps.

★ ★

The seventh annual Reno Rally, sponsored by Al Wintringham's Sports Car Unlimited, gets underway this weekend, with a record number of participants anticipated. The event, dubbed the largest non-competitive sports car gathering in the West, will begin at Harrah's Stateline casino Saturday at noon and then proceed to Reno.

Amateur Radio Groups Hold Joint Picnic

The South County Amateur Radio Society and the Palo Alto amateur radio association held their first annual joint picnic at Huddart County Park, Woodside, last Sunday.

A baseball game, under the management of Larry Reed and Russell Fransworth, began the affair at 10 a.m.

Les Cobb directed a "hidden transmitter hunt" following the ball game. Food and cold drinks were served.

Those in charge of picnic activities were Paul Wolfe, E. A. Douglass, Charles Linn and L. Van Eaton from the Palo Alto club, and Raymond Woods, Al Eckes, Landry Doster and Mrs. J. Goethe of the South County group.

Menlo-Atherton will open its varsity basketball schedule in the SPAL Jan. 9, against Sequoia, away.

Non-league opponents for Menlo-Atherton's varsity footballers this season will be Campbell, San Mateo, Lincoln, and San Jose.

John Pulli Appointed Fifth Full-Time Recreation Leader

Full Time Appointment
. . . as a Recreation Director has been given to John Pulli.

The newest and fifth full-time member of the Ravenswood Recreation and Park District staff is John Pulli who has been with the district since February and was recently given permanent status. Already well known to children who have participated in playground activities at Kavanaugh school and to the junior baseball teams at Brentwood, John has been in charge of games at the Recreation Center on Bell street.

Pulli lives with his parents in Oakland where he was born 23 years ago. He attended St. Bernard's Grammar School and St. Elizabeth's High School in Oakland. From 1953 to 1955 he was enrolled at the City College of San Francisco and from 1955 to 1958 he was at San Francisco State College from which he received his BA in recreation in 1958.

In 1956 he worked with the Alameda Recreation Department during the summer and in September of that year he became a playground leader for the Estuary Project Recreation Center. From October 1957 until he came to Ravenswood, he was employed by the San Bruno Recreation Department as an athletic director for the intermediate grades. During this same period he was physical education instructor at St. Elizabeth's Grammar School in Oakland.

Garden Column:

Dwarf Citrus Adds To Garden—Even Without Fruit

For downright good looks, dwarf citrus is hard to beat. Even without fruit, its foliage adds a clean, glossy accent to the garden. In bloom its fragrance is often heavy and heavenly. And when it bears, the ornamental effect is like no other garden shrub.

It comes as a surprise to some gardeners that so many different citrus fruits are available on dwarf stock. The list includes oranges, lemons, grapefruit, limes, kumquats and mandarins. And in areas where some of these do poorly as full-grown trees, they will thrive as dwarfs.

CULTURE DOES IT

The difference lies in culture Dwarf citrus can be planted i against a house to trap or protec it from wind. It can be planted in a tub and moved to take advantage of the best exposure at all times of the year. Or a screen can be built to trap heat around a dwar where it wouldn't be worth the effort with a full-grown tree.

In the garden scheme, dwarf citrus makes an ideal tub plant for patio use. As a foundation plant it is full and uniform, needing eventual pruning to keep it down to four feet. As a hedge, mature trees will spread to eight feet and grown nearly as high. Nurserymen also offer espaliered citrus for use against walls and fences.

The tubbed citrus takes mor watering than one planted in the ground, but don't overdo it. Citru prefers life slightly on the dr side. Fertilize only occasionally and lightly and never until the tree is well established. Actually once you've planted it, you have little to do to keep a dwarf citrus tree happy. Just sit back and let it keep you happy with its foliage, fragrance or fruit.

WINTER SWEET PEAS?

The out of state gardener who winters over in California is ever amazed to see sweet peas in bloom "Sweet peas in winter?" he asks only half believing what he sees.

The Californian needs no reminder that sweet peas are one o his best sources of color when col or counts most. And if he fails to take advantage of his knowledge he has no one to blame but himself.

If you want sweet peas for Christmas there is no time to lose The California Association of Nurserymen reminds us that early planting brings sweet peas; late planting, late ones. The nursery men list the following steps as necessary to really good results:

First step is to dig. A trench at least a foot deep, preferably more, means that sweet peas can get the deep, well - established root systems they need. Next layer six inches of manure or oak leaf mold and peat in the trench and work it in. A three to four inch layer of topsoil goes on top of this and should be firmed and leveled.

Now comes the seed. Set them one inch apart and cover with a half inch of soil. Firm them in and water thoroughly by sprinkling. Cover the lot with mesh to discourage birds and bait for snails.

When plants sprout, thin six inches to a foot apart. Crowded plants can give you inferior flowers and a shorter bloom period. Chicken wire or some other trellising will be necessary to support the climbing plants.

When plants have good growth start to fill in the trench. How much filling is needed depends on how deep you dug originally.

Though sweet peas have no love for too much heat, they will take all the sun they can get in winter. And if drainage is poor, you'll do well to improve it. When blooms do come, pick all you want. This not only brightens your home, but lengethens the life of your planting. A nice combination in anyone's book.

Saturday Is Tally Ho Party Time!

Final plans and last minute preparations are being completed as the Woodside-Atherton Auxiliary to the Stanford Convalescent Home prepare for their annual Tally-Ho party Sept. 13. "A Day at Hialeah" is the theme of this year's all day event.

The models for the fashion show have been selected, and Nerice Fugate Moore, director of the San Francisco House of Charm, has presented a two-week course in modelling and makeup to the auxiliary members who will be modelling in the event.

Fall fashions will be presented by I. Magnin and Co., with Paul Speegle as commentator. Music will be furnished by Ray Hackett and his orchestra.

Special attractions for the children include games, bottle toss, Mickey Mantle baseball throw, and stage coach, and an afternoon appearance of Captain Fortune, local television star. The "Cotton Candy Man" will also be on hand to contribute to the fun of the younger set, announces Mrs. Thomas A. Taylor, chairman of the children's concessions.

The adults will also find many games to test their skill when the evening party commences at 5 p.m. New concessions are being planned by Mrs. Ralph Walter and Mrs. E. S. Layman Jr.

The days' activities get under way at 9:30 a.m. with the morning horse show. Lunch will be followed by an afternoon performance which concludes at 5 p.m.

One of the highlights of the evening event, starting at 8 p.m., is the purebred native Arabian costume class. The class opens as the riders enter at a hard gallop attired in colorful costumes on their Arabian horses.

Mrs. James H. Barry of Atherton is general chairman for the Stanford Convalescent Home. Tickets may be purchased from any auxiliary member, or at the gate. Children will be welcomed at the horse show, but only adults will be admitted through the main party gates.

Council Opens Drive for Membership

Teams of volunteers from the Children's Health Council of the mid-peninsula have been meeting with Mrs. Hart Tantau, Los Altos Hills, and Mrs. Alexander Donald, Woodside, and addressing and mailing letters to community citizens, announcing the council's annual membership drive.

Various types of memberships are available to support this unique institution, giving services to children from Mountain View through Redwood City in the nursery school for mentally retarded children, the speech, hearing and rehabilitation unit and the child guidance section.

Assisting Mrs. Tantau and Mrs. Donald are Mrs. Gareth Kellam, Mrs. William Dickman, Mrs. Marron Kendrick, Mrs. Henry Meiggs and Mrs. Henry Wade, all of Atherton, and Mrs. Raymond Cooper of Woodside.

AAUW Meets in Woodside

The home of Mrs. David D. Bohannon, 115 Oakford road, Woodside, will be the setting for a tea to be given by the Menlo-Atherton branch of the American Association of University Women on Saturday, Sept. 20, from 2 to 4:30 p.m. Women on Saturday, Sept. 20, from 2 to 4:30 p.m.

At this opening tea, according to Mrs. Alvin Meyer, branch president, members and prospective members will have a chance to look over the program of events and activities for the coming year and to sign up for the various committees and sections. "Creativity through Communications" is the theme of the tea, and the decorations will feature newspapers, TV and radio.

Mrs. Warner Angerer is general chairman of the tea. She is being assisted by hospitality chairman Mrs. Kenneth L. Bowen, membership chairman Mrs. George P. Walsh, chairman of committees Mrs. Willis C. Johnston, and chairman of sections Mrs. Robert B. Lytel.

Also helping are Mrs. Herbert A. Jones and Mrs. Richard L. Sperison, arts and decoration, and Mrs. James W. Richardson, properties. Invitations are being prepared by Mrs. Jones, Mrs. Charles W. Hanford, Mrs. George E. Falkenthal and Mrs. Dwight Allen. Mrs. George H. Warfel is in charge of publicity.

Presiding at the tea table will be the past presidents of the Menlo-Atherton branch. The executive officers of the branch will receive the guests.

Presidents of neighboring AAUW branches will be special guests at the tea. They are Mrs. Laurence C. Armond, San Mateo; Mrs. C. B. Harrison Jr., Los Altos; Mrs. Wendell Hammon, Los Gatos-Saratoga, and Mrs. L. T. Amirian, Palo Alto.

Other special guests include state President Mrs. William H. N. Bryant Jr., and state program chairman Mrs. Neville T. Massa.

Setting their sails . . .

. . . for Menlo-Atherton's first dance of the year are Roger Burpee, Ward Hensill, Cynthia Henderson, social commissioner and general chairman, and Jill Harker. "Anchors Aweigh" is the theme of the annual "howdy" dance, a get acquainted affair, to be held at 8:30 p.m. Sept. 19, in J building at the high school.

Women Voters Set Tea

The gardens of the Isadore Schuman home in Woodside will be the setting for the annual fall membership tea of the League of Women Voters of Menlo Park, on Wednesday, Sept. 17, from 2 to 5 p.m.

The program of the tea will be devoted to presenting to the members and their guests a glimpse of past and future activities of the Menlo league. Mrs. Bruce Waybur, president, will present the chairmen, who in turn will discuss their particular facet of the league program.

On the national level, Mrs. Leonard Bedell will speak on foreign policy and Mrs. John R. Johnson on water resources. On the state level, Mrs. John B. Crawford will report on the first year's study of the state constitution (with possible revision) and outline the plan for the second year of the program.

On the local level, Mrs. William Spangle will speak on the Bay Area master plan and Mrs. Lester Kornblith on the study of the San Mateo county charter. A report will also be given on the Menlo Park recreational needs study.

Voters service chairman Mrs. Martin Loewenthal will outline the league plans for the presentation of candidates, activities of the speakers' bureau, and present the league's capsule discussion of state ballot measures "Pros and Cons."

The arrangements for the afternoon are in charge of Mrs. James W. Crooks, special events chairman, assisted by Mrs. A. C. Bonora.

Women of the area interested in attending or those desiring transportation are invited to telephone the membership chairman, Mrs. Phillip Hoffman, DA 3-2238.

GOP Women To Hear Congressman

Congressman J. Arthur Younger will be the guest at the September 16 meeting of the San Mateo County Federation of Republican Women.

"Know Your Congressman and His Achievements" is the keynote of the session, at which Congressman Younger will report on the legislative scene.

Assemblyman Louis Francis of the 25th assembly district and Assemblyman Carl A. Britschgi of the 26th assembly district will also speak briefly.

The meeting, which will begin at 1:30 p.m., will be held in the upstairs recreation hall above the newly constructed building housing the Peninsula Loan and Savings Association at 2850 El Camino Real, just north of the Farmers' Market in San Mateo.

What's Doing Among Menlo Park Teen-Agers

By BETH WYATT DA 5-8528

(OOPS! Our teen columnist Beth Wyatt returned last week from her summer travels, and ye editor, caught still in a summer daze, ran her home-coming column under the by-line and picture of Judee Chaskin, who so nobly had substituted during Beth's absence. Our apologies to Beth for the oversight; our thanks to Judee for her fine help!)

Many of our last year seniors are leaving us for college. Penny Post held a box-lunch get-together for some of the girls in the class of '58. The girls arrived about 12:30 with their box lunches. Each drew a number, then, in numerical order picked the luncheon of her choice. They sang happy birthday to one of the girls present and wished Joan Starkweather a bon voyage. She's leaving for abroad on the 15th of this month. Besides eating, the girls talked and swam.

That night after church a few gathered over at the Post household. Swimming in the moonlight were Sheri Davidson, Ruth Barry, Dottie Grove, Penny Post, Kent Hull, Dick Aced, Terry Baker, Hank Fullenwider and Jim Vaden.

IDC

The Inter-District council met last Friday, the 5th of September. Commissioners from Menlo-Atherton, Sequoia and Carlmont joined together to discuss problems. They also discussed the new Ravenswood and Woodside schools, and ways to make the schools feel more at home in the community.

Picnicking and surfing at Carmel last week were Suzanne Horney, Larry Hancock, Pete Hayes, Barry Horney, Doug Hancock and Cindy Henderson.

On Sept. 5, Penny Pole had a slumber party at her home. Playing records and listening to a wildly narrated story until 4 a.m. were Sue Byrne, Gayle Gowdy, Nancy Gray, Joey Thorpe, Sherry Zeigler, Susan Betts, Julie Ann Schaeffer, Macy Ennis, Terri Rudolph, Penny Pole and Diane Greenshields. In the morning the girls were served pancakes for breakfast.

EXCHANGE STUDENTS FETED

Saturday, Roger and Dave Johnston held a get-acquainted party for Jack Sorrentino, AFS student from Italy. Lynn Larson and Jeep Jones, who just arived home from Sweden and France, attended. Also attending the party were Seth Armstrong, Ernie Bouskos, Mac Brinton, Roger Burpee, John Clark, Ben Eastman, Mike Fahey, Bob Giubbini, Doug Hancock, Mark Healy, Arden Jones, Jim King, Ed LeClaire, Bob Mitchell, Bill Summers, Rich Tuttle, Chuck Yannacone, Jim Ames, Linda Allio, Ann Bouskos, Bonnie Bryson, Judee Chaskin, Gail Clement, Pat Davis, Cindy Henderson, Suzanne Horney, Sue Lampman, Sue Larson, Ann Mitchell, Lise Nohr, exchange student from Denmark, Jane Penfield, Beth Roberts, Penny Sewell, Sally Tuttle, Sharon Welch, Wendy Welch, Anne Thomas, Sue Grider, Cammy Cole, Warren Werner, Gerry Varty, Jerry Wilson, Mickey Dorst, Jerry Beckers, Bill Barry, Ed Scripps, and Chuck Robertson. There was pizza to eat and tales of the summer to be told.

ANCHORS AWAY!

The first social board dance of the year will set sail on Sept. 19 from 8:30 to 11:30 p.m. Our new social commissioner said it will be the only stag dance of the year. The dress is sports coats for the fellas and cottons for the gals.

Last week Mary Martin held a swim and luncheon party. Trying to hula-hoop into shape for the school year were Ann Rovere, Jan Osborn, Mary Jo Jensen, Eileen White, Penny Sewell, Suzanne Linforth, Doddie Van Loben Sels and Lynn Downey.

On Sunday, Wendy Ford held a spur-of-the-moment party for two newcomers in the sophomore class, Lynne Parker and Jim Fitzwilson. Dancing and playing ping-pong were Pete Jevet, John Anderson, Bob Garner, Jim Saunders, Cubby Welch, Ted Johnson, Dave Nelson, Phil Riley, Tom Healy, Ken Eldred, Chris Mattson, 'Deig', Marilyn Mercer, Judy Hayes, Cindy Frailey, Mary Ott, Judy Klein, Ann Rovere, Jan Eldridge, Barbara Blagin, Jan Osborn, Judy Grover, Bonnie Drury, Lynne Parker and Wendy Ford.

Also last Sunday there was a welcoming back party for our two AFS students, returned from their summer abroad.

Welcoming Jeep Jones back from France and Lynn Larson Sweden were Cindy Henderson, Judee Chaskin, Terri Rudolph, Melissa Lowe, Linda Allio, Bonnie Bryson, Sue Lampman, Linda Scaff, Cheryl Barnes, Jane Benidt, Sue Grider, Judy Burton, Suzanne Horney, Sue Larson, Pat Meek, Jill Harker, Libby Bell, Ann Bouskos, Joyce Carlson, Anne Thomas, Penny Sewell, Lise Nohr, Jane Penfield, Pat Davis, Leona Harshberger, Sue Leslie, Doug Hancock, Chuck Ott, Seth Armstrong, Roger Johnston, Jack Sorrentino, Chuck Yannacone, Roger Burpee, Neil Cooperider, Gerry Varty, Rich Tuttle, John Peck, Ed Protiva, Dave Schmitz, Roger Patterson, Mark Healy, Paul Weiden, Robert Giubbvini, Ben Eastman, Ward Hensil, John King, Pete Hayes and Bruce Tracy. Mr. and Mrs. Jones and Mr. and Mrs. Larson sponsored the party and all had a lovely time.

Jill Richlyn Papenhausen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Papenhausen of Atherton, recently announced her engagement to James Lloyd Fitts, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Davis of Redwood City.

Jill is a recent graduate of Menlo-Atherton High School and plans to enter business school this fall. She is the granddaughter of Mrs. E. Emrich of Atherton, and Mrs. H. Papenhausen of Cloverdale.

The prospective bridegroom is known as Jim, and he is a graduate of Sequoia High School, and is presently in the Army, stationed at Fort Ord. After completing his basic training, Jim plans to enter the paratroopers.

Jim is a brother of Weldon Fitts of Redwood City and Marvin Fitts of San Diego. His grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. John Catham of Redwood City and Mrs. Mollie Fitts of Texas.

The couple announced their engagement to friends and relatives Labor Day, when Jim was home on his first weekend pass.

No definite date has been set as yet, but the couple plan to be married at the first of the year.

Florence Carlson Is Engaged To Harold Wall

Two life guards and swimming instructors at the Ravenswood swimming pool last month announced their engagement to delighted friends.

Miss Florence Carlson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Carlson of Palo Alto officially revealed her engagement to Harold Wall, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold C. Wall of San Francisco.

The bride-elect graduated from Ravenswood elementary schools, and Menlo-Atherton High School. She is now a senior at San Jose State College where she is studying education.

The benedict is a graduate of Lincoln High School in San Francisco and is a senior at San Francisco State College. He is majoring in physical education.

For the past two summer seasons, Wall has been coach, swimming instructor and lifeguard at the pool. Miss Carlson has been swimming instructor, life guard and pool cashier for two seasons.

Date for the wedding is indefinite.

Junior High Series Resumes

"Teen Time," Saturday night activity for seventh and eighth grade students, will resume its schedule of weekly programs Saturday at 7 p.m. in the East Palo Alto Community Church fellowship hall.

The junior high program begun at Community Church last year and held on Friday nights, has been organized to provide an evening of recreation and fellowship once a week, in addition to occasional outings and special events.

Under the direction of Mrs. Joan Brohmer, the young people engage in two hours of group participation in games, entertainment, and a fellowship period. The fellowship period includes occasional films, visual demonstrations, and talks related to youth problems and their solutions.

Community Church welcomes inquiry from young people and parents concerning the "Teen Time" program or schedule.

THE BOLIVIA group of the Menertons will meet Wednesday, Sept. 17 at 12 noon at the home of Mrs. Arthur Nevins, 99 Lane place, Atherton.

Now Mrs. Stanley F. Bennett:

Lue Jean Woodard Is Bride Here

The Menlo Park Presbyterian Church provided the setting of the September 6 wedding of Lue Jean Woodard, daughter of Mrs. Willa Simmons Woodard of Menlo Park, and Stanley Francis Bennett, son of Mrs. John S. Luker, of Denver, Colorado, formerly of Palo Alto, and the late Bert Francis Bennett.

The bride was given away by her uncle, Donald Clark Simmons, of Hayward, and the vows were read by Dr. Floyd Barr.

IVORY GOWN

For the 4 p.m. ceremony, Lue Jean chose an ivory gown of alencon lace and satin, styled with a Sabrina neckline and long pointed sleeves. The fitted bodice was accented with an Empire waistline of alencon lace, and the full length gown was fashioned along princess lines and featured a bouffant skirt.

Her fingertip veil of illusion was held in place by a shallow cap of alencon lace, and featured two scallops in front. She carried a bouquet of baby roses and stephanotis and a cascading spray of orange blossoms.

PINK SHEATH

The bride's only attendant was her sister, Bonnie Wane Woodard, a junior at Menlo-Atherton High School. Serving as maid of honor, Bonnie wore a petal pink sheath of silk organza over taffeta. The dress featured a scoop neckline and short puffed sleeves. A floating panel of organza was held at the waist in the back with a spray of flowers. Bonnie chose a petal pink band for a head piece, and carried a nosegay of baby roses, and a carnation spray.

BEIGE SHEATH

The bride's mother wore a beige linen sheath, detailed with embroidery. Mrs. Luker was attired in a blue floral print taffeta, with a pleated skirt and a mandarin collar, and white accessories.

Standing with Stanley as best man was Robert M. Nissen of Redwood City. Serving as ushers were John P. Paddock of Menlo Park and James D. Kennemer of San Carlos.

The church organist, Robert Quade, furnished the music, the processional "Now Thank We All Our God" by Bach, and a recessional, "Trumpet Voluntary," by Prucell.

GARDEN RECEPTION

A reception following the ceremony was held in the gardens of the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert A. Jones of Menlo Park, and was attended by 150 guests.

For her going away outfit, Lue Jean donned a Dior fashioned blue wool sheath, featuring a square neckline and a soft bow detail with three quarter length sleeves. White hat and gloves, and matching black patent shoes and hand bag completed her costume.

After a honeymoon to Lake Tahoe, the Bennetts will return to Menlo Park.

Lue Jean is a former graduate of Palo Alto High School, and Stanford University. Stanley is also a former graduate of Palo Alto High School, and San Jose State where he was affiliated with Alpha Delta Sigma and Delta Phi Delta fraternities.

Bridge Tourney Winners Announced

The winners of Monday's Menlo-Atherton bridge club tourney were Mrs. M. F. Swanson, Mrs. J. A MacNicholl, Mrs. Austin Clark Mrs. Florence Dunham, Mrs. E. S Gutter and Mrs. Peter Looff.

The tournaments are open to all duplicate bridge players and are held each Monday afternoon at 1 p.m. at 1210 University drive, Menlo Park.

On Sept. 22 an open team of four championships will be held, and on Sept. 29, the monthly master points.

Localite Is Named To Chairmanship

Mrs. Ralph C. Shay, past president of St. Pius Mothers' Club, of Woodside, will be introduced as one of the newly apopinted program chairmen of the San Mateo County Presidents' Council, Parent Teachers Group meets for its first session, Sept. 15.

The meeting will be held at 12:30 p.m. in St. Matthews' School in San Mateo. Father John T. Foudy, superintendent of schools, will be the moderator of an informal roundtable discussion.

Shopping in Menlo

with MERRIE PARKER

This week's shopping takes us to the Allied Arts Guild. For mothers still filling out the children's wardrobes for school, EVE YOUNG'S CHILDREN'S SHOP has many things to offer for young misses. In the fall cotton line is a brown cotton frock accentuated by a white eyelet band in front, and a white peter pan collar and cuffs, priced at $13.95. Another charming brown frock features white smocking on the bodice, with lace trimmed white collar and cuffs selling for $10.95.

Sweaters and blouses are a must for every miss. Retailing at $4.98 is a white chemise styled overblouse featuring a white hip line band of white eyelet, as is the peter pan collar. For the oncoming crisp fall mornings, Eve Young has just the thing in a white orlon long sleeved cardigan. The mock turtle collar is accentuated by a bow detail, as is the lower band at the hip line.

For the best possible wearability may we suggest a wind proof glove leather jacket? The lined jacket has a double row of self covered buttons down the front, is long sleeved, parchment colored, and may be worn belted or loose. The jacket sells for $27.95 and a matching beret is available for $4.00.

A wide variety of back to school cottons in chemise, sailor, jumper one-piece and two-piece styles is available to choose from. The frocks come in bright plaids, subtle plaids and both light and dark solid colors.

* * *

With fall almost here, the FEMININE SHOP has a large selection of autumn accessories and costume complimentors. A particularly lovely line of brown alligator purse accessories is an excellent value. Very reasonably priced, the line includes a compact, $3.00, pill box, lipstick and mirror, each $3.00, a lighter and cigarette case, retailing at $4.00 apiece, and a comb case for $2.75.

In the fall costume jewelry line you will be very pleased with a bracelet of genuine foreign coins, from ten different countries. Selling for $2.25 plus 10 per cent federal tax ,the bracelet coins are of silver, copper and gold.

Many lovely autumn colored scarves are available, as is a line of women's stretch gloves imported from Italy. A special value at $1.50, the gloves come in many colors, white, pink, yellow, blue, and red.

The Feminine Shop features a large selection of toiletries. Colognes by Hattie Carnegie come in many delicious scents, Carnegie pink, blue and beige, and Four Winds. They also offer soaps and colognes by Mary Chess, and a lovely selection of guest soaps and bath accessories.

The lingerie line includes many dacron cotton combination nightgowns, both full length and shorties, some trimmed with lace, others with yellow satin ribbons. To complete your night wear costume, see the exquisite peignois and robes.

* * *

For those with an eye for gracious and elegant living, an afternoon of browsing at the TRADITIONAL SHOP would be thoroughly enjoyed. Their collection of Daalderop-Tiel pewter includes five varying sizes of pitchers, candle sticks, covered serving dishes, creamer and sugar sets, trays and butter dishes, and come in two styles.

Selling for $2.50 apiece is a beautiful dessert plate of Italian pottery, with a delicately latticed scrolled edge. The dessert plates come in three colors, pink and white, green and white, and blue and white. Enhancing the elegance of the plates are the dessert fork and spoon sets, featuring white embossed Italian ceramic handles in a grape design. With gold fork tines and spoon bowls, the set includes a fork and spoon and is priced at $3.00 a set.

Some of the more popular silver pieces are an English reproduction of a berry spoon, at $5.50, a silver plated butter dish, $7.00, and a Swedish drip stopper, excellent for preventing wine drips when serving, retailing for $5.00 plus federal excise tax.

The shop has an excellent selection of glassware. One line, the Sportsman's glasses, come in several patterns, each design an exact copy from nature. The quail, angler and horse lines are gold rimmed and the highball sizes are priced at $1.85 each. The traveler featuring a map, and the sailor, decorated with signal flags, retail at $1.75 apiece.

Other glassware includes an epergne, an ornamental dinner table center piece, of frosted French glass, for $6.50, liquor sets, including decanter and glasses, and a wide assortment of colored glass ware.

Stop and shop at the Allied Arts Guild for many unusual and lovely items.

. . . models seem most concerned about their weight, but Pat Meek, right, of Atherton and Mrs. John Doddridge, left, of Sunnyvale don't seem worried. They are among models in the Los Altos Women's Club's Family Fall fashion show to be held at Town and Country Village, Palo Alto, Sept. 14. Features of the outdoor show will include a stereophonic music concert and a continental breakfast. Proceeds from the affair will go to the El Camino hospital district.

Patricia Killmer Is Bride

Patricia Killmer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Killmer of Menlo Park, and Donald J. Powers, son of Joseph Powers of New York City, exchanged vows Sept. 6 at Church of the Nativity here.

Father Richard Hartnett officiated at the 2 p.m. ceremony, and the bride was escorted to the altar by her father.

Patricia donned a gown of peau de soie for the wedding. The fitted bodice was accented by an overcovering of lace, heavily embroidered with seed pearls. The bouffant skirt featured a lace over-skirt trimmed with the same embroidered detail as the bodice. A back panel of lace, and the overskirt were appliqued with small medallions. The bride's short veil was held in place by a small cap trimmed with pearls. She carried a nosegay of stephanotis and butterfly orchids.

ATTENDANTS

The bride was preceded to the altar, flanked by chrysanthemums, stock and gladioli, by three attendants.The maid of honor, Marcianne Killmer, a sister of the bride. Joanne Harrington and Gayle Gillson served as bridesmaid and flower girl, respectively.

The bride's attendants were dressed identically in princess styled frocks of old gold. The dresses featured a back panel which hung from the shoulders and was attached by golden hued flowers, and they carried pompon nosegays of deep gold and yellow chrysanthemums.

Ray Huard stood with Donald as best man, and seating the guests at the afternoon ceremony were Richard Marty and Walter Harrington.

ALLIED ARTS

Following the vow exchange, more than 100 guests attended the reception which was held at the Allied Arts Guild. For her place in the receiving line, Mrs. Killmer chose a grey green dress of chantilly lace. The dress was accented by a cummerbund and side panels of matching chiffon. Beige accessories and a cymbidium corsage completed her costume.

GOING AWAY

Before departing for Northern California, Patricia changed into a blue suit, complimented by a butterfly orchid, and navy accessories. After returning to the local area, Mr. and Mrs. Powers will make their home in Palo Alto.

Patricia is a graduate of Mountain View High School, and attended the College of Notre Dame.

Donald graduated from the Bishop Laughlin Memorial High School in New York, and has attended the University of Arizona. He is also a Navy veteran. He is now employed as a technical assistant at the International Telephone and Telegraph Laboratory Corporation in Palo Alto.

First Fall Luncheon:

Presbyterian Women to Meet

The Menlo Park Presbyterian Women's organization will hold their first fall luncheon meeting Thursday, Sept. 18, in the fellowship hall at 12 noon. All women of the church are invited.

During the summer several PWO members attended the Asilomar Inter-Denominational conference at Pacific Grove, and the PWO leadership school at Stockton. Highlights from these conferences will be given by Mrs. Owen Johnson, Mrs. Owen Cline, Mrs. Seely Hall and Mrs. Joseph Brain in an inofrmal discussion, conference conversations.

Along this theme Ralph Johnson will aid Mrs. William Grove, chairman of the nomination committee in presenting a stimulating challenge for the 1959 officers.

Luncheon will be served by circle 8 and reservations may be made by calling Mrs. Miner, DA 3-6759. Child care is provided.

A prayer group will precede the luncheon meeting at 11:30 a.m., lead by Mrs. Frederic M. Paist.

Dance Honors Ravenswood High School

The annual "Back-to-School" party for high school young people, sponsored by East Palo Alto Community Church at 7:30 Friday night, will center in a theme honoring the opening of the new Ravenswood High School.

The school will be featured throughout the evening in a series of active games, stunts and entertainment. Some of the areas of school life will be depicted in the fun time, according to Dave Nellis, youth director at Community Church.

The Friday night function is part of the high school program at the local church. Some of the young people planning and participating in the party have recently helped to set up a series of programs for the church's Sunday evening youth meetings.

Membership in the youth organization is open to all high school age youth in the East Palo Alto area, according to Nellis.

Dr. McAfee To Speak

Dr. Malcolm McAfee will be the speaker at the opening meeting of the Mothers' Council of the Menlo Park Presbyterian Church on September 17, from 9:30 to 11:15 a.m. in Geneva Hall.

The topic, "Spiritual Growth of Children in the Home," will be presented from Dr. McAfee's own family experience. McAfee works with student leadership at Stanford University, under the auspices of the Westminster foundation.

Mothers of all children in the church school are invited to attend. Coffee will be served before the program, and child care will be provided.

The officers for the coming year are Mrs. R. I. Altick Jr., president; Mrs. Harry March, vice-president and program chairman; Mrs. John Jenks, vice-president and membership chairman; Mrs. Richard Dorst, secretary, and Mrs. Ralph Luckenbach, treasurer.

EPA Women Slate Busy Fall

Mrs. Elizabeth Jorgensen was appointed second vice president of the East Palo Alto Women's Club at the September meeting, held last Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Anne Davidson.

Plans were announced for a turkey dinner to be held in November and a rummage sale to be held Sept. 29 and 30.

Committee members in charge of the dinner are Mrs. Mavis Grover, Mrs. Elsie Bennett, Mrs. Lottee Cobb, Mrs. Amanda Collins and Mrs. Mimi Stickler.
Mrs. Mimi Stickler.

Mrs. Davidson and Mrs. Ester Boyd will be in charge of the rummage collection and sale.

The annual club bazaar was scheduled for October 24 and 25. In anticipation of the sale, members of the sewing club will met next Wednesday, Sept. 17, at the home of Mrs. Rosella Miller, 504 University avenue, Los Altos. Mrs. Jorgensen was named general chairman for the bazaar.

The garden section meets today (Thursday) at the home of Mrs. Boyd, 2292 Glen way.

Inasmuch as location of the meeting of the Merry League for Sept. 25 has not yet been decided members have been asked to call Mrs. Lotte Cobb for information, prior to the day.

All club members have been reminded to bring their copy of last year's yearbook to the October meeting so that changes may be inserted for the coming year.

Mrs. Elise Bennett, Mrs. Rozella Miller and Mrs. Stelle Canfield were members of the committee in charge of tea served at the September meeting.

MENERTONS MET

The monthly meeting of the Menertons was held Sept. 10 at the home of Mrs. Guy Sperry, 65 Selby lane, Atherton. Members gathered at the poolside for swimming and cards. Dessert and coffee were served by the hostesses, the members of the Chit-Chat and Sewing sections of the Menerons.

HOLD KID'S PARTY

The Menlo-Atherton chapter of the Children's Home Society started its fall season with a "Kid's Party" Sept. 6, at the Atherton home of Mr. and Mrs. George Somers. The party was held in honor of the new probationers, Mrs. Kenneth Rickey, Mrs. Emmet Cameron, Mrs. Max Mertens, Mrs. Joseph Wirth and Mrs. Hunt Paterson.

PTA Fetes Faculty

A luncheon welcoming the faculty and staff of Menlo Oaks School, an annual event sponsored by the Menlo Oaks PTA, was given on Thursday, September 4, in the home economics room

In charge of hospitality and decorations were Mrs. Wallace Dean, Mrs. Cy L. Pennel and Mrs. Lester Baker. Board members who assisted in greeting school personnel were Mrs. W. Harwood Huffcutt, Mrs. Thomas Huston, Mrs. Cornelius Orem, Mrs. Norman McIntyre, Mrs. T. R. McMillen, Mrs. Paul Grush, Mrs. Harold North and Mrs. Wesley Pomeroy.

Garden Section To Meet

The Menertons garden section will hold its monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. James Hill, 5770 Arboretum, Los Altos, Sept. 16 at 12:30 p.m. Edward Walker, landscape consultant, will speak on "Unusual Plants and Plaintings."

Co-hostesses for the event will be Mrs. Charles L. Peterson and Mrs. Raymond Betka. Anyone wishing to join this section may contact Mrs. T. E. Boyd, DA 3-6799, chairman of the group.

Ann Parnie Becomes Mrs. Phillip Ormsbee

The Atherton gardens of the Stewart Parnie home was the scene August 30 of the marriage of his daughter Ann to Phillip Oliver Ormsbee of Ticonderoga, New York.

More than 40 guests gathered at the 4 p.m. ceremony officiated by the Reverend Danforth Lion of the Palo Alto Unitarian Church.

Ann was given away by her father, and wore a gown in which her grandmother was married in 1905. The gown was of French ecru lace and the draped bodice featured a high neck and full puffed sleeves. The skirt fell full length, and ended in a train in the back. The bride wore a full floor length veil held by a princess styled cap of ecru lace which also belonged to her grandmother. She carried a nosegay of white roses and lillies of the valley.

Patricia Elaine Parnie, sister of the bride, was her only attendant. She was attired in a princess styled gown of rose taffeta and wore a coronet of roses. Her bouquet consisted of baby pink roses.

David Parnie, brother of the bride, stood with Phillip as his best man.

For her place in the receiving line, Mrs. Parnie donned a frock of blue chiffon and navy blue accesories. A corsage of three butterfly orchids completed her costume.

Before leaving for her honeymoon, Ann changed into a gray and black checked cashmere sheath, patent leather accessories, and a white orchid corsage.

Among the guests at the wedding were the grandparents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. David Scott Parnie, of Miami, Florida, Mr. and Mrs. George Mavierri of Albuquerque, New Mexico, Dr. and Mrs. John Adair, also from Albuquerque, both aunts and uncles of the bride, and Mrs. Flora T. Taylor, of Columbus, Ohio.

Ann is a graduate of Middlebury College, where she was affiliated with Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority. Phillip is also a graduate of Middlebury and was a member of Alpha Phi fraternity and Blue Key.

Thane Shows Fall Fashions

Mrs. Melvin Savage of Atherton, Mrs. Edson Piers of Menlo Park, and Mrs. Richard L. Gonzalez of Woodside are among the models of the "Curry Spiced Fashions" show to be presented tomorrow at 12:30 p.m. by the Palo Alto Auxiliary to the Crippled Children's Society of Santa Clara County.

Jobert Thane, Bay area designer, will show his fall collection of originals. The theme of the show will be the mystic land of India. A limited number of tickets are availabie by calling Mrs. Charles Hitchcock of Menlo Park at DA 5-0892.

Sewing Program Has Two Sections

Two regular weekly sessions of the sewing section sponsored by the Menlo-Atherton Education department are now in full session, at the fellowship hall of the East Palo Alto Community Church.

Mrs. Henry Garton, instructor, reports that meetings are held on every Monday afternoon from 1 to 4 p.m., and on Tuesday, from 9 a.m. to 12 noon.

Persons interested in joining the group may call Mrs. Garton at DA 3-4251.

O.E.S. Sponsors Chicken Dinner

Beulah Chapter 83, Order of the Eastern Star will hold a southern fried chicken dinner on Saturday at the home of Mrs. Pearl Heelock, 1375 Sevier avenue, in Belle Haven.

Tickets are $1 per person. Servings will start at 12 noon. All proceeds will be used for the chapter charities.

Graphologist Speaker at Luncheon

Mrs. Richard Drury of Menlo Park, handwriting analyst, will be the featured speaker at the regular luncheon meeting of the Welcome Wagon Club on Sept. 17 at 12 noon at the Chez Yvonne restaurant in Mountain View. Mrs. Drury will relate some of the character insights that can be gleaned from the study of handwriting. Her career as a graphologist stems from her study of the science of handwriting, first pursued as a hobby.

Another feature of the program will be a mystery white elephant sale, proceds of which will be devoted to the service project of the club, providing entertainment for the residents of the Whitcomb rest home in Menlo Park. Members have been asked to bring gift wrapped packages to be sold during the afternoon.

Membership in the Welcome Wagon Club is open to all new residents of the Menlo Park, Atherton, Palo Alto area. Activities of the club in addition to the monthly luncheons include couples bridge, women's afternoon bridge, canasta, golf, bowling and chit-chat and sewing.

Further information on membership may be obtained from the president, Mrs. Charles Graves, DA 6-6321.

Reservations for the luncheon will be accepted until Sept. 13, and may be made by phoning Mrs. Richard War, DA 6-7045.

Menlo Girl Leaves for Hamburg

Elizabeth Mosher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Austin Mosher of 1175 Johnson street, left Monday for Hamburg, Germany, where she is to study grand opera and vocal music during the coming year.

Award of a Fulbright Fellowship for this work was announced early this summer, after Miss Mosher, a USC honor graduate, became the only vocal music scholar from the state to be awarded a grant under the government sponsored program.

Elizabeth will study grand opera, in all of its ramifications. She has chosen her field of study on the basis that German operatic lore is the most complete in the world.

Elizabeth attended Menlo Park public schools, and was graduated from Menlo-Atherton High School.

She studied voice under the direction of her father, afterwards under Ruth Chamlee at USC.

She will study at the Academy of Arts at Hamburg; a voice coach has not yet been named.

Phi Mus To Meet

The first fall meting for the Peninsula Phi Mu alumnae will be held Monday, Sept. 15, at the home of Mrs. James G. Smith, 600 Hermosa way, Menlo Park. Dessert will be served at 7:30 followed by slides and a talk by Mrs. J. Lynch about her experiences at the national convention at Lake Placid in June.

Any Phi Mu new to the area is most welcome and may make reservations by phoning Mrs. Smith at DA 3-0500.

Creative Dance Group Plans Fall Classes

Members of the committee for the Menlo Park creative dance group, associated with Vick Ford, met at the home of Mrs. Jack M. Shulman Wednesday to discuss classes in creative dance which will begin Sept. 17.

The classes, from pre-school age through technic 2, and workshop children over 7, will be held at the St. Mark's Episcopal Church, Palo Alto. Those interested in further information should call Mrs. Shulman at DA 2-6914.

WOMEN PLAY CARDS

East Palo Alto Women's Club will hold an afternoon card party Monday, at 1 o'clock, with Mrs. Anne Davidson in charge. Cake and coffee will be served.
